FIFTY-SEVENTH YEAR No. 205 LINCOLN, NEB., THURSDAY MORNING, MAY 28, 1959 SEVEN CENTS

WIFE OF RUSSIAN ATTACHE DEFECTS

London (UPI) —The wife of the assistant Soviet naval attache in London has defected to the West with her 5-year-old daughter, it was disclosed Wednesday night a few hours after her husband was flown home to Moscow.

A Home Office spokesman said the request of Mrs. Nina Dmitriev, 35, for asylum for herself and her daughter, Lena, was under consideration by British authorities.

He Boards Plane

The woman's husband, Capt. Aleksandr Dmitriev, 38, went aboard a Russian TU-104 jet airliner at London Airport in the afternoon flanked by two Soviet security agents. The plane took off minutes later.

Home Office officials approached Dmitriev just before he boarded the plane and asked him if he wished to remain in England. He replied, "I wish to leave for Moscow."

Mrs. Dmitriev and her daughter disappeared Saturday and the Soviet Embassy had appealed to Scotland Yard for help in locating them. Wednesday afternoon, however, the Foreign office said the missing woman and girl had been found.

British officials refused to reveal the whereabouts of Mrs. Dmitriev and Lena, but said they still were in England. It appeared that they had skipped out on Capt. Dmitriev over the weekend.

Scotland Yard said it understood that the mother and daughter had left the Dmitriev apartment in London late last week, supposedly bound for the Soviet Embassy's country estate at Hawkhurst, in nearby Kent. When Dmitriev went there to join them over the weekend, he found they had never arrived.

People living in the building where the Dmitrievs had their apartment said embassy officials turned up during the weekend and questioned neighbors about the whereabouts of Mrs. Dmitriev and Lena.

"The family seemed happy enough," one neighbor said. "They seemed to get on well with everyone."

Fur Starts To Fly As Brooks Back In Office

By Don Walton

Ralph G. Brooks returned to the governor's office at the Statehouse Wednesday with all the subdued silence of a herd of elephants.

It was the chief executive's first appearance in his chambers in 47 days and followed by just 40 days a "slight" stroke which temporarily felled him April 17.

The governor spoke for nearly 40 minutes on a variety of subjects ranging from civil service to traffic safety.

Brooks explained that his civil service bill (LB716) killed by a legislative committee was designed to give state employes "security."

Notes Criticism

Taking note of criticism from Republican State Chairman Richard E. Spelts Jr., who viewed the bill as a method to freeze state officials in their posts, the governor barked:

"Can he read? Doesn't he know the bill doesn't cover department heads? The governor could fire everyone of them."

Brooks also referred to published reports that 30 Statehouse employes had changed their party registration in recent weeks.

"I don't care if they change their registration or not. I just want them to do their job," he said.

'No Spies'

Estimating that 90 to 95% of state employes are registered Republicans, the Democratic governor noted that his administration has "no spies" seeking registration facts.

"Changing their registration," Brooks pointed out, "if they're inefficient won't help them.

"I believe a Republican should keep right on voting Republican and working with the party if he wants to.

"But, I don't believe they should campaign against this administration while they're employed."

He defined campaigning as "speech-making long after the election is over."

Concluded the governor: "I don't want them to be loyal to me, but I do want them to be loyal to the state of Nebraska."

'Semi-Employed Joker'

Referring to criticism from "a joker in semi-employment (evidently special assistant attorney general Rush Clarke of North Platte) who says I'm wrecking things," Brooks declared, "I'm not a wrecker. I came in here to build."

John Foster Dulles Buried At Arlington

Washington (AP)—John Foster Dulles was buried on a sun-drenched hillside Wednesday with military honors as old as the nation and a formal farewell from renowed statesmen of many lands.

The man who had dedicated much of his life to a quest for world peace found it for himself at last in Arlington National Cemetery.

President Eisenhower looked on at the impressive military services. Compressing his lips in a thin line, he appeared close to tears.

Another chief of government, 83-year-old Konrad Adenauer, Chancellor of West Germany, was among the mourners. Foreign ministers representing much of the western world were on hand, too, along with Andrei A. Gromyko of Russia.

Gromyko Praise

The statesmen had flown the Atlantic and Pacific to attend last rites for the former Secretary of State, who died Sunday at the age of 71, a victim of cancer.

Gromyko arrived here offering up an exceptional measure of praise for his old diplomatic foe. Acknowledging they had many differences, he termed Dulles "an outstanding statesman, outstanding diplomat."

Dulles in death had achieved something he could never bring about during his lifetime: a truce in the cold war, a suspension of bitter propaganda exchanges and a measure of hope that somehow the event of his passing and the rituals accompanying it may open the way to better understanding among nations.

The Geneva conference of big 4 foreign ministers had recessed so its members could fly to Washington for the funeral. That provided an opportunity for Eisenhower to confer with Gromyko and the other Geneva principals Thursday.

But Wednesday was reserved largely for solemn rites and parting tributes to a fallen statesman.

Funeral services were held in mid-afternoon in the great gothic-arched Washington Cathedral. The burial services with military rites followed at Arlington, resting place of the nation's war dead. Dulles was a major in World War I.

The cathedral was nearly filled. The President and Mrs. Eisenhower were there. So were Vice President Richard M. Nixon, members of the cabinet and Supreme Court, members of the Senate and House, the Washington diplomatic corps and the gatherings of diplomats who crossed the oceans especially for the services.

Her face drawn, Mrs. Dulles sat in the first row of chairs, directly across the aisle from the President. She was all in black, including a diaphanous veil. With her were two sons, John, an engineer in Mexico City, and Father Avery Dulles, a Jesuit priest, and a daughter, Mrs. Robert Henshaw of New York City.

President Eisenhower wore a gray suit with a black necktie. Mrs. Eisenhower was wearing a black suit and a tiny frilly white hat.

There were familiar hymns, with the cathedral boys' choir leading the singing. There were familiar passages from the scriptures. "The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear?"

Particularly appropriate for the moment were words from the 103rd Psalm: "As far as the East is from the West, so far hath he removed our transgressions from us."

There was the reading of the beatitudes: "Blessed are the peacemakers; for they shall be called the children of God."

There was no sermon. There were no formal eulogies, at Mrs. Dulles' request. The eulogies had come earlier in myriad ways, in the bounty of scores of floral offerings, in warm messages from world leaders, in the presence of statesmen from far away lands, in the respectful presence of ordinary people.

Mutt, Jeff Bandits Use Machine Gun

. . . Bank Holdup Nets $20,000

Advance, Mo. (AP)—A Mutt and Jeff bandit team with citified ways held up the bank in this southeastern Missouri town of 733 persons Wednesday. They escaped with an estimated $20,000 after idling away a day sizing up the place.

The two young men, one short and fat, one tall and skinny, waving a tommy gun and a pistol, struck when only 5 bank employes were on hand and snapped, "this is a holdup. Everybody against the wall and no one gets hurt."

The employes did so, related Mrs. Claudine Lorch, cashier, and then were herded into the bank vault. The robbers slammed the door shut, scooped up all the money they could lay their hands on and fled in a 1955 car.

But the 5 imprisoned in the vault were out in less than two minutes. They freed themselves by taking apart the vault lock with a screwdriver. Mrs. Lorch said all bank employes had been instructed how to get out of the vault just in case something like this happened, or in case someone accidentally locked himself in.

"It was all over in about 5 minutes," said Mrs. Lorch, who estimated the amount of money taken. The exact amount won't be known until a count is made.

Mrs. Lorch said the tall man was about 6-2 and the short one about 5-5. The tall one was armed with the tommy gun, the other with a pistol.

They wore long raincoats and dark glasses as a disguise.

"I don't think they were local boys," said Mrs. Lorch. "They had city accents." She said both had been seen in Advance Tuesday and one of them had come into the bank to change a $20 bill.

The businesslike holdup was the first in the sleepy 57-year history of the bank.

Show Homes Please Wives

Homebuilders try to keep pace with feelings of the modern housewife and evidently that's just what they're doing because most of the women visiting the Lincoln Parade of Homes "like what they see."

This was the observation of Harold Evans, president of the Lincoln Home Builders Assn. who said new home additions such as walk-out basements, cookouts, built-in all-electric kitchens and patios are just a few things the housewife with a "critical" eye has demanded in her home.

Attendance at the Parade of Homes Wednesday night totaled approximately 3,500, hiking the overall figure to 16,500.

The show of the 18 homes continues through Sunday. Weekday hours are from 6 to 9 p.m. and Sunday from 1 to 9 p.m.

MAN NABBED

Cairo, Ill. (AP)—State police Wednesday night arrested a man they said was driving a car used earlier in the $20,000 holdup of the bank of Advance, Mo.

Police did not identify the man and said he was being held for FBI questioning. No charges were filed.

EAST FACES MORE RAIN, MILD TEMPS

Thursday weather throughout Nebraska is expected to range in the 70s, with showers and thunderstorms developing in the eastern half of the state.

Western Nebraska received a heavy drenching Wednesday night from a storm front which also brought isolated tornado clouds and hail to the area.

The storm front passed over much of the western half of the state without any reported damage. Chadron reported .43 of an inch of rainfall in two heavy thunderstorms, and marble-sized hail fell in the vicinity of Hyannis.

The storm area was also buffeted with high winds which reached gale velocity.

Thunderstorms are expected to spread eastward across the state Thursday, reaching extreme eastern Nebraska by Thursday night.

Wednesday's high readings were topped by Imperial's 83. Lincoln reported a high of 78.

Fire Damages Horse Barn At Ag College

Fire late Wednesday night caused heavy damage to a newly-remodeled portion of the Horse Barn on the University of Nebraska Ag campus.

Quick thinking by a carload of unidentified University students who reported the fire after they spotted sparks flying from the roof may have averted a major fire.

The fire was confined to the second floor and attic, where it encircled a recently-installed air conditioner. Poultry and hogs in other parts of the buildings were not disturbed.

Origin of the fire was undetermined, according to firemen. They speculated, however, that it may have been caused by a short in the air-conditioner wiring.

Firemen could give no immediate estimate of damage.

CLAIR CALLAN

R.G. Picks Callan To Run Study

. . . Of Government

Clair Callan of Odell was named Wednesday as chairman of a 4-man bi-partisan commission to analyze the operation of Nebraska state government.

The body will study government operations with "an eye to streamlining and centralizing in the interests of efficiency and economy," Gov. Ralph Brooks said in announcing the appointments.

Other commission members:

—Arthur Carmody of Trenton, Republican.

—Bill H. Davidson of Lincoln, Republican.

—Leonard Bronder of Lincoln, Democrat.

Daugherty Named

Named as special technical consultant to the commission during its initial operations was William E. "Pat" Daugherty of Lincoln, an accountant.

Callan, 1958 First District Democratic congressional nominee, is a 38-year-old farmer and implement dealer.

First task for the commission will be a study of the office and duties of the state purchasing agent.

Carmody, a farmer and realtor from Trenton, was a member of the Nebraska State Legislature for 14 years. He has also served as president of the Nebraska State Historical Society.

Davidson, a lifetime resident of Lincoln, was an unsuccessful candidate for the City Council in 1951. He owns and operates a local restaurant.

Bronder of Lincoln served as researcher for the Nebraska Citizens Council, organized to study finances and taxation in Nebraska.

Grand Island Crash Kills 3

. . . Ohio Couple, G.I. Man Die

Lincoln Star Special

Grand Island—An elderly Ohio couple and a Grand Island man were killed here Wednesday in a grinding, two-car headon collision just west of the city limits on U.S. Highway 30.

The victims were C. S. Shiflet, about 60, and his wife, Ethel D., 60, of Ashtabula, O., and Donald G. Becker, 24, of Grand Island. The 3 persons died at a hosptial. Officers said all suffered broken bones and were badly cut up.

The Safety Patrol said a witness stated that the eastbound Shiflet car was passing a transport when the crash occurred on the north shoulder of the highway.

The deaths sent the traffic toll soaring to 116, 19 more than on this date one year ago.

29 Flee Burning Vessel

. . . Captain Stays

Pinar Del Rio, Cuba (AP) — The main boiler of the Greek freighter Aghios Spyridon exploded Wednesday night, killing the ship's carpenter, and the ship grounded on a reef off Cuba's northwest coast.

A Cuban Navy launch rescued the other 29 crew members, but the fire raged out of control.

A spokesman for the Coast Guard said so far as is known, the captain was still aboard the stricken vessel. He added, however, that all crewmen were taken aboard a Cuban cutter and that another Cuban vessel was standing by to remove the captain "if it becomes necessary."

Radio Havana reported the fire was "progressing" and that there was no effective fire-fighting equipment at the scene.

Aground

Coast Guard vessels from Key West and Havana sped to the scene, about 80 miles west of Havana and 4 miles off Cayo Arenas.

When fire broke out, the U.S. Coast Guard cutter Ariadne was sent from the Key West base. The Ariadne was expected to reach the scene about 9 a.m. (EST) Thursday.

A Navy report did not indicate whether any of the rescued were injured, but ambulances and doctors were rushed to meet them.

Omaha Intangibles Jump $150 Million

. . . Unofficial Tally Of Tax Reports

By Betty Person

The Lincoln Star learned Wednesday that preliminary figures on the taxable valuation of intangible property in Omaha has increased nearly $150,000,000 over the amount reported last year.

By a "conservative estimate," Class A intangible property (cash, book accounts, savings accounts, bank deposits, bills of exchange, checks and drafts) will have a taxable value of $204,000,000 this year.

This compares with the city's final taxable value of $136,225,440, for this class of property last year, an increase of nearly $68,000,000.

An even more sizeable increase in Class B intangibles (stocks and bonds) is indicated, with the same "conservative estimate" showing that Omahans have reported such property this year with a taxable value of $246,000,000, compared with the final taxable value of $164,244,500 last year.

This represents an increase of nearly $82 million over last year in the taxable value alone.

Since taxable value is 35% of actual value, this means the actual value of intangible A property reported is roughly $612,000,000, and the actual value of intangible B property is around $738,000,000.

The estimate on the taxable value of building and loan shares reported this year was $7,000,000, compared with the final taxable value of $6,287,380 last year.

Preliminary

It was emphasized that all reports on values were "preliminary" and "estimates."

On other classifications of property in Omaha, real property was estimated at $378,356,685, compared with the final taxable value last year of $361,702,500, an increase of more than $16.6 million.

Tangible personal property was reported estimated at about $91,000,000 (taxable value), compared with $87,003,730 final assessed value last year.

Sen. Terry Carpenter, who has led a two-year fight to get more property on Nebraska tax rolls, hailed the Omaha reports as meaning that tax law reforms passed by the

BROOKS ISSUES DRIVING DICTA

Gov. Ralph Brooks Wednesday suggested 3 ways to avoid being a traffic statistic during the coming Memorial Day weekend.

"First, don't go unless it's very necessary.

"Second, don't go if the weather is inclement.

"Third, if you do go, keep within the speed limit, within the guide lines on the pavement, out of the ditch, away from fences and alert concerning oncoming and passing vehicles."

In conclusion, the governor said: "Be alert every minute."

FINALLY—CORN PLANTING

Nebraska farmers rolled into their fields Wednesday to try to catch up with late corn planting. W. F. Fisher above, who farms 400 acres near Malcolm, now has some 40 acres of 145 seeded. Lancaster County, plagued by wet weather, has only 5-10% planted, according to Assoc. County Agent Emery Nelson. About 50% of the corn on a statewide basis is now in the ground. (Star Photo)

Ike Will Try To Resolve Deadlock

He'll Talk To Foreign Ministers

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower will take a direct hand Thursday in trying to break the deadlock at the East-West foreign ministers conference.

Only a few hours after the U.S. British, French and Russian diplomatic chiefs landed here from Geneva, a White House conference was set up for them for Thursday morning.

The foreign ministers suspended their so-far fruitless talks at Geneva to attend the funeral Wednesday of John Foster Dulles, who not many months ago was in the thick of the Communist-Western dispute over Berlin.

On Secret Basis Next

The Geneva negotiations are scheduled to resume officially Friday on a secret basis. But the Soviet and Western foreign policy chiefs are likely to get to work again before that—when they fly back to Europe together aboard an Air Force plane.

The Dulles funeral brought one of the biggest concentrations of foreign dignitaries here in many years. Eisenhower arranged a luncheon for them Thursday, following his talk with the Big 4 negotiators.

There was no word whether the luncheon would be purely a social affair, or whether it would include discussions of the Geneva situation.

Among visitors to Eisenhower Wednesday was 83-year-old Konrad Adenauer, West Germany's chancellor.

TERRY SUFFERS BLEEDING

. . . 'Nothing Serious'

Lincoln Star Special

Wahoo—Sen. Terry Carpenter, 59, of Scottsbluff, was hospitalized here Wednesday night after suffering a severe nasal hemmorhage.

Sen. Carpenter's condition was described as good with the hemorrhage under control.

The senator was driving rom Lincoln to Hooper to from Lincoln to Hooper to address the Hooper Community Club's ladies night banquet.

He was stricken as he drove into Wahoo. A doctor picked the senator up at a filling station and drove him to the hospital.

Didn't Feel Sick

Mrs. Carpenter, who was accompanying her husband on the trip to Hooper, told The Star the senator was "feeling fine, and, as a matter of fact, he never did feel sick."

Mrs. Carpenter said she and the senator plans to return to Lincoln Thursday morning "as soon as they take a blood count."

She reported the senator has never suffered from high blood pressure and that "even after the bleeding, his blood pressure was 135 to 140—very, very normal."

She said there was "no cause for alarm."

BROOKS RETURNS

tures, the governor suggested: "I came not to destroy, but to fulfill. Fulfill what? The duties, obligations and responsibilities of leadership."

Brooks took the Legislature to task for killing his bill to increase penalties for speeding motorists.

"I'm sure they know what they're doing," he said. "But, I can't agree with them."

Driver Re-Exam

As for criticism of his proposed drivers re-examination legislation (not yet introduced), Brooks pointed out:

"My program is to save your life."

First offense speeders were the chief target of the governor's increased penalties bill (LB718) which would have provided suspension of drivers licenses. The measure was killed by a legislative committee.

The first offense, Brooks said, is "the time to teach him a lesson."

The lesson: "Don't slap their wrists. Knock the hell out of them. They'll remember that," he joked.

'Isn't Boyle'

As to charges that he is manipulated by others, Brooks said, "my advisors are people who aren't in politics . . . One of them isn't Bernard Boyle."

Boyle is Democratic national committeeman.

Fielding another charge that Boyle had engineered Brooks' veto of the first bingo bill, LB86, the governor declared:

"Bernie didn't know any more about that bingo bill than a rabbit knows about . . . whatever a rabbit doesn't know about."

Brooks said he received advice from a member of the Legislature on one appointment (apparently to the Capitol Building Commission) and from the bar association on a judicial post.

'Terry Named'

The legislator who advised: Sen. Terry Carpenter.

"He's the guy who's dominating the 'puppet governor' of the state of Nebraska . . . just as much as anybody is," Brooks quipped.

The governor said he would still like to see the new bingo bill provide for inspection under the Department of Agriculture and Inspection. A legislative committee amended the bill (LB719) to place it under the secretary of state.

Finding a new warden for the State Penitentiary, the governor pointed out, is "strictly a Board of Control matter."

Hangar, 4 Planes Are Wrecked By Wyoming Twister

By The Associated Press

A tornado smashed farm buildings, a hangar and 4 airplanes on the outskirts of Gillette, Wyo., Wednesday.

The twister struck first at a ranch. It destroyed a windmill, a shearing shed and a granary there.

Then it swooped down on the Gillette Airport, knocked a hangar to pieces and wrecked 4 planes.

The airport manager, Jim Fulkerson, estimated the damage at $27,000—$22,000 to the planes and $5,000 to the hangar.

Hangars on either side of the demolished buildings were not touched and a stack of barrels 30 feet away didn't even tip over.

Air Force Fires New Bomarc Interceptor

. . . With At Least 'Qualified Success'

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (UPI) — The Air Force fired a flashing new super-Bomarc interceptor missile on a short-range maiden test flight Wednesday and it was at least a "qualified success."

The new solid fuel booster engines performed smoothly in the test, sources said. The new type Bomarc is faster, has a speedier takeoff and a range almost twice that of the early model Bomarcs.

Wednesday's test was at a range less than one-fourth of the potential 400-mile range of the missile, designed to intercept and destroy enemy bombers. It was not aimed at a target.

The Bomarc was fired shortly after a Snark intercontinental missile fizzled on a planned 5,000-mile test flight over the Atlantic tracking range. Malfunction in the air-breathing Snark occurred and it was turned around on its course and plunged in the Atlantic off Florida.

The Snark test was a disappointment. The weapon was the last scheduled for test firing before the Snark-equipped 556th Strategic Missile Squadron deploys to its operational launching site at Presque Isle, Maine.

Castro's Brother Is Safe

Havana (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro's kid brother Raul—object of an anxious overnight search — emerged unhurt Wednesday from the forbidding Zapata swamps where his plane crashed Tuesday on a search mission.

Bad luck—and good—dogged him again during the day in a rescue plane flying him back to Havana.

The landing gear of the rescue plane, a Catalina flying boat, became disabled and it had to make a belly landing at Havana's military airport. Young Castro again was unhurt.

OMAHA VALUES JUMPED

1959 Legislature have "hit home."

But he declared the "battle is only half won," and "in order to prove anything, this must be held."

Carpenter said he had previously estimated that the actual value of property which might be reported in Nebraska this year would be up a quarter of a billion dollars over last year.

"In view of the astronomical sums reported in Omaha, it would appear this can be revised to three-fourths of a billion dollars over last year," he commented.

Forced To Pay

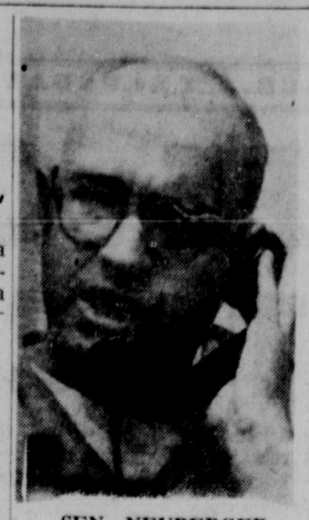

"For the first time, Nebraskans have been forced to pay what they should have been paying for years," Carpenter said, adding that he had every reason to expect, however, that those same people are going to exercise every influence possible to neutralize those tax laws.

"This thing must be held firm," Carpenter said. "While I don't feel I'm an indispensable man, my decision on whether to run for governor will depend entirely upon my personal judgment of whether the 1961 Legislature will be willing and able to withstand pressure to change the new tax laws."

Abstracts from each of the counties showing their actual property valuations are due in the Tax Commissioner's office July 1.

Preliminary reports from several counties out-state have shown increases in almost all types of property, but particularly in intangible property.

The Omaha report is the first this year from a major city. It did not come from the Tax Commissioner's office.

SEN. NEUBERGER

Federal Speedup Is Urged

. . . To Find Cancer Cure

Washington (AP)—Two prominent men who underwent apparently successful surgery for cancer recommended Wednesday a redoubled government program of research to combat the disease.

Radio-TV personality Arthur Godfrey and Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore) made such pleas to a Senate Appropriations subcommittee which is considering funds for the fiscal year which starts July 1.

Sen. Lister Hill (D-Ala), chairman of the subcommittee, opened the hearing by suggesting that stepped-up federal help with cancer research would serve as a fitting memorial to John Foster Dulles and others who died of what Hill described as "this monstrous killer."

Neuberger, who had an operation for cancer last year, agreed, saying:

Vast Program Favored

"What greater way could there be to honor Mr. Dulles' memory than to launch a vast program through the National Cancer Institute aimed at vanquishing the disease which took his life?"

Godfrey, who recently underwent surgery for lung cancer, wrote the subcommittee:

Presbyterians Staunchly Back Dr. Gill, An Accused Theologian

By George W. Cornell

Indianapolis (AP) — United Presbyterians drove through troubled waters Wednesday to give staunch backing to one of their ranking theologians accused of questioning Christ's virgin birth.

Some fought the move passionately—but in vain.

Then, in a whirl of other actions, slowed only occasionally by debate, the 3-million-member denomination concluded its 171st General Assembly with a barrage of pronouncements.

Other Actions

Among other things, they:

1. Endorsed birth control, saying "the proper use of medically approved contraceptives may contribute to the spiritual, moral and economic welfare of the family."

2. Urged abolition of capital punishment as contrary to "the revelation of God's love in Jesus Christ."

3. Condemned as "ungodly and unconstitutional" laws restricting groups seeking racial desegregation.

4. Deplored laws either banning or requiring union shop agreements, under which employes must join a union, but struck out proposed specific references to so-called "right-to-work" laws in 18 states.

5. Outlined steps for combatting alcoholism, and asked congregations to encourage "voluntary abstinence" from liquor.

Dramatic high spot of the day was the confirmation of the Rev. Dr. Theodore A. Gill as president of San Francisco Theological Seminary.

After a taut, edgy session about his views on the virgin birth, the assembly gave him a resounding approval.

Sharp Attack

But a minority sharply assailed his doctrinal position, and the emotion-charged meeting seemed to verge on being turned into a courtroom at times.

"Dr. Gill is not on trial," interjected the church's executive officer, the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, at one point.

Opponents of Dr. Gill maintained the theological standards of the church were at stake, involving its historic creeds avowing the virgin birth. Declared the Rev. Herbert E. Schreiner of Seattle: "Certainly a seminary president should not hesitate to say I believe Jesus was born of the virgin Mary."

Plans Remain For Lincoln General Wing

Construction of an addition to Lincoln General Hospital is still being planned, its trustees indicated in board meeting action.

Robert Guenzel, Lincoln General president, said the institution would proceed with its plans for the $1,221,214 addition in spite of being denied a priority rating this year.

The hospital had applied to the Nebraska State Dept. of Health's hospital division for $448,486 in Hill-Burton funds.

Guenzel added it would take another year before plans and preliminary work could be completed so the application for federal aid could remain on file with the state.

The addition is the first step toward a long-range replacement and expansion of the medical facility. Besides federal aid, the hospital plans to finance through the issuance of tax-free bonds.

New Zoning For O Street Tract OKd

By Virgil Falloon

The City-County Planning Commission Wednesday approved local business zoning of a 4-lot tract on O Street across from the Gateway Shopping Center.

In approving the change on the O Street tract, the Commission denied any change in two lots fronting on Lyncrest.

Atty. Chauncey Barney said the Chuckrow Construction Co., New York City, has optioned the tract for the construction of two retail stores, each containing 8,000 square feet and providing parking for 52 cars.

The proposed businesses are Robert Hall Clothes and G. R. Kinney Shoe Co., both chain operations, Barney said.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin E. Schappaugh, owners of the O street tract also requested business zoning on the Lyncrest lots as a possible medical clinic site.

However, two residents of the area appeared in opposition to business zoning of property fronting on Lyncrest.

More Car Space

In other action, the Commission scheduled a June 10 public hearing on a proposed zoning code change that would establish minimum off-street parking requirements for fraternities, sororities and rooming houses.

In "D" multiple dwelling districts, there would be required one parking space for every 400 sq. ft. in fraternities and 700 sq. ft. in sororities and rooming or boarding houses.

Planning Director Douglas Brogden said the proposed requirements would not be retroactive in effect on existing facilities, but would plug the gap in the zoning code as to future building.

The Commission study on parking for rooming houses, fraternities and sororities had been requested by the City Council.

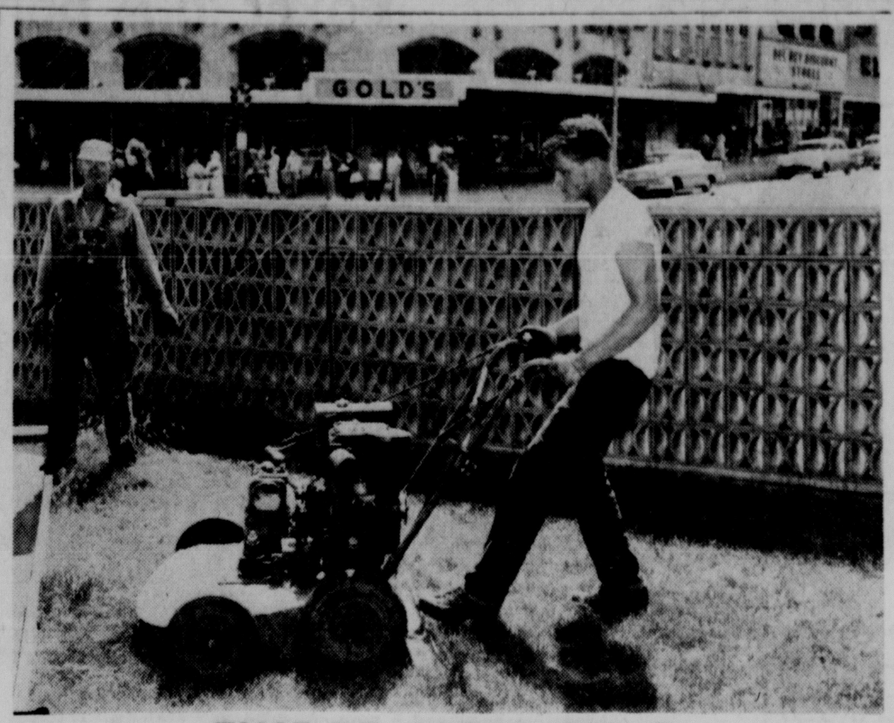

Motel Stalled

The Commission tabled until June 10 action on a special permit for a three-unit motel and office at 1225 Cornhusker Hwy. until a plot plan could be submitted.

Permit applicant was Mrs. Lillian Imig, who proposed to remodel an existing service station.

Also deferred was action on the proposed vacation of 64th between Judson and Knox. The request was made by adjoining property owners.

A commission majority favored vacating the street, but final action was deferred for a report on nearby Pershing Elementary School.

TIME TO MOW ON O

Berlin Front Is All Quiet

. . . Deadline Passes

Berlin (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev's old ultimatum for Berlin expired Wednesday as American and British Army convoys rolled in and out of this Western outpost right on schedule.

West Berlin's 2,200,100 residents generally paid more attention to the funeral of John Foster Dulles in Washington than the May 27 deadline for their own city.

The Soviet premier had already postponed it when the West agreed to sit down and talk with the Russians in Geneva about the future of Berlin and divided Germany. Khrushchev himself was off on a mysterious trip to Communist Albania that few thought involved Berlin directly.

Flags in West Berlin flew at half staff and newspapers recalled with gratitude how Dulles as U.S. Secretary of State stood up for this city surrounded by Communist territory.

59 New Irrigation Wells Registered: Total Now 22,872

Fifty-nine new irrigation wells have been registered with the State Department of Water Resources since April 3.

State Water Resources Director Dan S. Jones Jr. said the new registrations bring to 22,872 the number of wells now registered.

The 1957 legislature passed a law requiring the registration of all irrigation wells.

Jones said his staff has discovered some duplications in registrations by farmers and irrigators who rushed to get their wells registered.

Jones said his staff is now checking to eliminate the duplications.

Kresge Plans Large Store At Gateway

A big and ultra-modern variety store has been added to the list of businesses which will occupy the Gateway Shopping Center near Cotner and O St.

S. S. Kresge Co. announced the signing of a lease for 25,000 sq. ft. of space in the east Lincoln shopping center scheduled for completion by Oct. 1, 1960.

The present Kresge variety store at 12th and O will remain in operation.

Harry B. Cunningham, president of the variety chain, explained that the new facility would feature the more efficient checkout system which allows the store to provide more service with the same number of employes.

The new store will rank among the largest of the center's estimated 30 businesses. It will employ more than 50.

Other stores to have space in the new shopping area are Montgomery Ward, Hinky-Dinky supermarket and Ben Simon's clothing.

Faubus Says Integration Is Not An Issue

Little Rock, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus saw no mandate Wednesday in the recall of 3 segregationists from the school board for reopening 4 high schools this fall.

"There was no clear-cut issue," he said in his first statement on Monday's recall election in which Faubus-backed segregationists were removed and 3 moderates he opposed were retained.

The governor told a news conference he had no present plans to return the closed schools to the school board.

And, he added, he was not working on any plan to reopen the schools under a token integration compromise.

"There is no such thing as token integration," Faubus said. Then he added: "My position on forced integration and the state's right to manage its own affairs remains unchanged."

War Risk

United Nations (AP) — A spokesman for the Algerian rebels said that French pursuit of the Rebels into countries bordering Algeria risks a fullscale war in North Africa.

LYNCHERS ARE NAMED

Washington (AP)—An FBI report given to Mississippi Gov. J. P. Coleman names the men who lynched Mack Charles Parker, government sources said Wednesday.

This word came two days after the Justice Department withdrew from the case, saying a month-long FBI investigation showed no violation of federal law.

The results of the investigation were handed over to Coleman for any action state and local authorities might decided to take.

Both the Chicago Tribune and New Orleans television station WDSU-TV reported the FBI had solved the case.

Parker was kidnaped from his unguarded cell a couple of days before he was due to go on trail on charges of raping a pregnant white housewife.

Rooster Fights Bring Gretna Man $20 Fine

Papillion, Neb. (AP)—A fine of $20 and costs was assessed Robert Osborn, 27, Gretna, on a charge of holding a public cockfight.

Osborn appeared before County Judge Joe Strawn and was found guilty on the cockfight charge but two charges involving gambling were dismissed.

The charges resulted from a raid on Osborn's farm Sunday by officers who said they found about 25 persons at the farm and counted about a dozen gamecocks.

Osborn lives two miles east of Gretna.

The defense contended those present were there by invitation and therefore the cockfight was not a public affair.

Rockers Blasted

Memphis, Tenn. (AP) — Singer-bandmaster Bob Crosby leveled a blast at rock 'n' roll music, saying "you don't have to be a musician to play it or a singer to sing it. "That's the kind of music we used to play when the lights went out," Crosby said in an interview. "It's the lowest."

Good Days Ahead

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

There is a smile this week on the faces of many as they watch for the opening of Lincoln's public swimming pools on June 6. Unless the wind, rain and cold force a change in plans, a splash in the pool will be well in order by the end of next week. This means that the season of outdoor living is really upon us.

Other cities are probably much the same but Lincoln seems to have done a very fine job on this subject of swimming. No young person can say he has had no opportunity to learn to swim in Lincoln. There are programs for swimming through a host of organizations and Lincoln has excellent pool facilities. In addition to three city pools, there are pools in the YMCA and YWCA, some of the schools and the Boy Scout camp south of Lincoln. Lessons are frequently offered under qualified instructors in all of these pools. And it behooves the parents of our children to encourage their youngsters to take advantage of these swimming opportunities.

Fine Swimming Program

More and more leisure activities are becoming centered around water. Swimming itself is growing tremendously in popularity, as evidenced by the record-breaking crowds that jam local facilities. The crowds have been so large at the city pools that the program has actually paid for itself in past years.

Things have been so good in this respect that thought has been given from time to time to the construction of additional pools with revenue bonds. This may never materialize but it does show the public use and acceptance of the program. If other evidence is needed, it can easily be found in the demand for pool facilities in some parts of Lincoln which now have none.

And swimming is not confined to local pools. Boating, fishing and picnicking are all becoming more and more a part of the life of the average individual or household. Certainly, boating and fishing are water sports and swimming is a very important as well as enjoyable part of both of them. Picnicking is often done around the water where swimming becomes a big part of the outing.

Along with all of this, of course, comes a multitude of other things such as convertibles, suntan lotion, insect repellents, thermos bottles, etc. This is all a part of the giant economic binge Americans go on during the summer to get the most out of that time of year. Many millions of dollars are spent every year on goods and services aimed at having fun.

Boating itself has become a tremendous thing with some families spending a large part of their income on this one luxury. There is actually very little water around Lincoln for this sport but a real boating enthusiast thinks nothing of traveling hundreds of miles to get his sleek craft in the water.

This calls for a trailer, of course, on which to haul the boat and the craft itself generally calls for a considerable amount of extra optional equipment. The fact that such activities as these take money and a great deal of time has often been the subject of some criticism. It becomes, at times, a basis for the accusation that life is too easy in the U.S. and young people are not getting the proper training in the rigors and hardships of making a living.

There may be some truth in this but there are some points, too, on the other side which have a lot of meaning. These leisure hours we have and the money available to use them mean a family doing things together. Week-end trips to remote spots, away from the complexity of our daily routine, can do more to bring a family closer together than a great many other things. It develops a real spirit of co-operation, a sense of unity and deeper affections. It makes the family a much more closely knit group and this is not something of no value.

Family Fun Together

It also develops within young people an appreciation for wholesome activities. How much better this is, for instance, than all members of the families running in different directions in the pursuit of much less attractive ends, of the family seldom seeing one another or of suffering from boredom or stagnation. It may be a somewhat softer life but we can also make it a much fuller and more rewarding one.

A Sound Investment

The people of Nebraska will never be sorry the Legislature passed the institutional building fund tax bill which raises the levy for physical plant improvements to 1.1 mills. In the past decade, this method of financing structures for state institutions has proven to be a most farsighted venture.

It has given the University of Nebraska and other state agencies the opportunity to plan their needs in advance and work toward the development of an over-all plan. It has provided buildings and improvements that most certainly would never have materialized in any other way. If each of the projects undertaken in the past with the building fund levy income had been forced to go through regular legislative channels, the chances are that less than half of them would have made it.

This approach to the problem has been no cure-all as there is no state institution which can say today that all its physical plant needs have been met. New construction items still must find their way into the regular biennial budgets of many departments. But the situation would be far worse were it not for the systematic application of the special levy.

The one point at which there might be some disagreement involves the change in the distribution formula. Undoubtedly, not all state agencies will find complete satisfaction with the new formula. The Board of Control, for instance, has its share of the building fund levy cut from 20 per cent to 14 per cent. Even though the board has now lost the School for the Blind and the School for the Deaf, it might well find that, in proportion to its responsibilities, it is receiving a small cut of the funds.

Feet On The Ground

There was little opposition when the legislature brought LB722 from the general file last week.

It is a measure that would levy a property tax over a six year period at the rate of upward of $300 thousand a year to establish research seeking new uses for agricultural products.

In a state in which agriculture is the predominant industry and one which currently is over-supplied and under-priced it is not considered good form to question the employment of science and education in an effort to better conditions. And many of the senators are not showng sufficient independence of thought on the matter.

There are a number of presumptions in the measure that require rationalization.

One stems from the suggestion that should Nebraska embark on this venture the federal government may move in with funds and programs for a substantial research establishment. We know of no binding guarantee of that.

There is the intimation that the laboratory will find a solution to surplus farm products. The evidence is to the contrary. The grocery store, the synthetic fabric industry and numerous other sources testify that research has not been slumbering. The work has been rewarding, but we still have surpluses—more than ever.

Moreover, a tax limited to six years is not to be construed as limiting the life of this adventure. Science and research are continuing things and if LB722 is going to introduce a valid new activity Nebraskans should accept it as a perpetual charge.

Support for the measure should not be built on ephemeral prospects. The real question before Nebraska is whether it can do a more fruitful job than private enterprise, which is, and has been, marshalling its considerable resources in the new products field; or outdo the federal government in appropriating money for almost perpetual study. Under such sobering strictures the measure still might look good, but let us keep the question on solid ground.

Flock Of Inconsistencies

The Wall Street Journal is sympathetic with people in business and government who are getting fed up with so called escalator clauses in labor contracts. It thinks the whole idea is screwy and inflationary.

It would be nice if it were that simple. But it isn't.

An examination of the principle of the escalator clause does reveal a pack of inconsistencies, mostly illustrative of muddy thinking all around.

Labor thought up the escalator clause. But Labor's principle quest has always been a bigger cut in the production dollar. The escalator clause does not get this. Rather it expresses a truce in which the ratio remains fixed and wages become a function of the rise and fall of the value of the dollar. The clause, if itself does the governing, frees the employer to enhance his profits by passing on to the consumer a greater charge than the wage raise called for. But at the same time it operates against a great many producers as well as against small labor, which embraces the majority of workers, both organized and unorganized. Without escalator clauses neither are able to play the game and come out the general loser.

The public interest, of course, takes the beating both ways.

The greatest fallacy in the whole thing is that inflation cannot be treated by granting special privilege to any one element nor by making war on any one element. It is an unwelcome economic phenomenon which must be treated in the whole.

Good Plan

Foreign aid grants were about the only practical devices to stimulate recovery in the ravaged nations right after World War II for the reason that the nations were too far down to provide a self starter.

But at this later date the current plans for an international development association are more soundly based economically. The new association would make long term loans to under developed countries, less conservative than the World Bank and on a different repayment basis. Where the World Bank requires repayment in dollars the association would accept the currency of the borrower nation. This device does not extract needy capital from the rebuilding countries and therefore stimulates further restorative credit. Later the lender countries can use the repayments for the purchase of resources and materials which in turn further stimulates the borrower economies.

O'Donnell Faces Senate Questions

Washington — Sen. Dick Russell of Georgia, a chivalrous gentleman of the Old South, wants to take a good look at the recommended promotion of Lt. Gen. Emmet "Rosy" O'Donnell—in deference to a lady.

The lady is Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, a quiet, conscientious member of the Senate Armed Services Committee who put up an effective fight against having certain headlined Air Force reservists win promotions without doing their required training. Specifically, Mrs. Smith objected to the promotion of actor Jimmy Stewart, American Airlines' John Montgomery, and other bigwigs who had failed to fulfill the training standards required of other less-publicized reservists.

In opposing them, Senator Smith came into head-on collision with General O'Donnell and won.

O'Donnell had boasted that as chief of Air Force personnel he had kicked 68,000 men out of the reserves because their training wasn't good enough.

"In view of this severity," queried Mrs. Smith, "why are you promoting Brig. Gen. Robert L. Smith, whose record isn't good enough either?"

☆ ☆ ☆

She referred to the president of Pioneer Air Lines of Dallas, a good friend of Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, who had only one 15-day tour of duty in eight years. When General O'Donnell claimed that Smith had just been on duty from Dec. 10 to Dec. 31, Mrs. Smith disputed this. General O'Donnell implied that the lady senator didn't know what she was talking about. But when his testimony came back from the Pentagon, O'Donnell had deleted his answers. They would have made him look sick.

Senator Smith also pointed to the fact that John Alison of Northrop Aircraft had not done a single 15-day tour of duty in nine years, and that J. B. Montgomery, who retired to go with American Airlines, later with General Electric, would get a big tax bonanza if taken back into the Air Force as a reserve officer.

She also dug up the fact that actor Jimmy Stewart had taken only one 15-day tour of duty in 11 years as a reservist, yet General O'Donnell wanted to promote him to be deputy director of operations for the Strategic Air Command, which required expert knowledge.

After Senator Smith finished cross-examining Rosy O'Donnell, he changed 43 out of 49 pages of his answers to her, plus five to six pages in answer to Senator Stennis (Miss.) and three out of three pages in answer to Senator Barrett (Wyo.). Mrs. Smith considered this deceptive.

Senator Smith also suspected that O'Donnell was responsible for news leaks from the Pentagon implying that she was peeved because she was not made commander of the WAF's in time of war.

Mourner Gromyko Stirs Speculation

WASHINGTON—The presence of Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko among the mourners at the funeral of John Foster Dulles imparts a bizarre touch to that ceremonial.

They are clearly under orders to get Nikita Khrushchev to a summit meeting with President Eisenhower by hook, crook or burial cortege. Nobody is to be given a chance to say that they are not co-operative.

The powerful and adroit intelligence now laid to rest in Arlington cemetery would not have bothered long with the issue of Soviet cynicism as shown so plainly in Gromyko's assumption of the role of mourner. A chuckle perhaps at the incongruity and Foster Dulles would have gone on to the basic question of why it is at this point seemingly worth so much to Moscow to achieve a summit meeting promptly.

If Khrushchev only wants to come to the United States, he could think up other excuses. There is always the United Nations, where he is entitled to enter by reason of his high office. Since the United States is sending its vice-president to Moscow to open its trade fair exhibits, it would have to say yes to Khrushchev's presence at any similar enterprise here.

☆ ☆ ☆

Perhaps Gromyko's journey back to Geneva as the guest of Secretary of State Christian Herter will afford the American a chance to probe into Russia's real intentions as distinct from the barren formalities which consumed the first two weeks of the conference. Today the State Department cannot or will not say that it knows with real assurance the course Khrushchev has set for himself.

The best argument for the summit is the chance it gives to hear, see and absorb the man himself. How firmly he dangles his foreign minister on the end of a string was apparent from the fact that Gromyko's decision to attend Dulles funeral was announced very late in the proceedings and only after ample time to consult the Albanian traveler.

☆ ☆ ☆

The foreign ministers are scheduled to return to Geneva about 18 hours after the Dulles funeral. Their stay may be further shortened by the headwinds encountered on the way over. The State Department has made no arrangements for their meeting at all here, except for the funeral itself; in fact, it frankly hopes their stay will be brief and entirely ceremonial.

Congress, which usually likes to be included in the schedules of important visitors, is likewise restraining itself. The restraint will not carry over to the argument over whether a summit meeting will be justified. Whether or not he asks for them, senators expect to give their opinions on that subject to the President in good time.

They seem to have no firm impression now regarding it. They do expect a detailed account from Secretary Herter of his own conclusions and reasoning in the matter before the administration's final decision is formulated.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

Boxer In A Bonnet

By BILL ANDERSON
Star Staff Writer

King is one of the best-dressed boxers in town and like a well-groomed human Dapper Dan, shows no reluctance to model his finery before admiring eyes.

But King has pulled an about-face on current fashion trends. While many American women have invaded the men's shirts-slacks monopoly, the six-year-old boxer has plunged head-first into the giddy world of women's apparel.

King's crown is a 75-year-old black, frilly hat, originally owned by the mother of 89-year-old Mrs. A. O. Anderson of 3300 M.

Miss Frances Anderson, King's owner, started dressing the boxer in female garb several years ago as a joke. Much to her surprise, the 90-pound giant co-operated. He loves to pose for visitors with the frilly hat on his massive head and a pair of old bifocal glasses on his nose. In the winter, he sometimes visits neighbors wearing a head scarf and an all-wool plaid coat.

King peers over the top of his bifocals and grins, as if to say, "Every dog should keep up with the styles."

Last winter, after a heavy snowstorm, Frances decided King needed shoes to keep his feet warm and dry. So she devised paw coverings out of old plastic sacks and King happily romped in the snow, although he found strange footing at first.

☆ ☆ ☆

The golden tan boxer was bought as a puppy from a Grand Island family, and the Andersons have found him to be a gentle and interesting addition to their home.

King spends hours at the feet of Mrs. Anderson, who has lived in Lincoln since 1872. Mrs. Anderson, invalided by arthritis, receives his constant attention. After meals, he stands by her tray and accepts a "prize", usually consisting of a choice tidbit.

MRS. A. O. ANDERSON AND KING
. . . exciting words have to be spelled . . .

Mrs. Anderson taught King to "kiss" when he was a young puppy. Now, King trots up to her before bedtime and plants his nose on her cheek as a goodnight gesture. King wakes her in the morning.

☆ ☆ ☆

King spends little time outdoors, but when he leaves the house, he acts like a three-year old boy out in the world for the first time. He walks no farther than the next-door neighbor's sidewalk and never crosses the street.

Frances says he is just like a baby. He's deathly afraid of storms and becomes virtually immobile when she tries to dislodge him from his hiding place after raindrops start pattering on the roof.

He is also jealous, and doesn't like little children who receive attention in his place. However, he is gentle and has never shown his teeth in anger. He always emits a resounding roar, however, when strangers come to the door. But he's all bark and no bite.

He understands human talk almost perfectly. But he can't spell, so Frances and Mrs. Anderson sometimes spell out words like "car" and "ice cream" so he won't be disturbed. He tends to become a little excited over everyday affairs.

Frances says King would look cute in a Lincoln Centennial derby, but she hasn't obtained one yet. But then, as long as King shows preference for frilly hats, his wardrobe may not need an overhaul for a while.

The Driver's Seat

Howells, Neb.

We would like to bolster the contention that the deprivation of drivers' licenses to a considerable fraction of Nebraska car owners would be a blow at state prosperity. Fewer cars would mean less use for both business and pleasure. Astute skill in mastering the aptitude tests is no substitute for practicality and the common-sense approach to driving.

As to Bernard Boyle's denial of the charge that he does just about all the suggesting and doing in regard to candidates and interim campaign slogans, in the very release containing the denial, there ensued a long list of "points" supposedly digestible for all party stalwarts. His two suggested candidates for senate and governor already have serious omens showing against them. The Democrats will remind themselves that they alone will do the nominating.

It seems that Attorney General Beck has taken out upon a Durante-esque mission with respect to the Unicameral, the federal courts, and the governorship.

He might do well to consider the reflection of Montaigne that "A man often strips to his shirt to jump no farther than he would have done in his gown."

Bigger And Bigger

Anselmo, Neb.

This idea of bigness seems to be a disease that spreads. We hear now that small schools must be done away with, small towns will not be needed, no small stores or factories or small business of any kind. Small farmers must go. Those who are efficient and have the money should take over everything, including all natural resources, and all the common people can have jobs working for them.

But this is not our idea of what other countries should do. In Japan, Italy and the South American countries, we are saying that big estates must be broken up and redistributed to keep people content and thus defeat Communism. Our theory is that if people have some property, they will support their country and even fight for it. The Russian leaders are telling us there will be no war, but that common people will turn away from capitalism in just a few years.

Bigness never did work right for any nation. Why do we think it's the right thing here?

A Basic Need

Lincoln, Neb.

A bill which came up recently in the Legislature, providing for an increase of five dollars a month in old age pensions, was killed. I would like to call attention to a recent story on Colorado's relief program. Colorado now provides their oldsters with a maximum of $100 a month.

Gov. McNichols expressed concern there because the new medical care program for pensioners had not been extended to cover home and office treatments. Only phases covering nursing homes and hospitalization care have been opened up. They threatened to swallow most of the $10 million a year earmarked for all medical services for senior citizens.

Nursing homes and hospital treatment for pensioners was borne by most counties in Colorado before the start of the state program in January. "This fund is for the poor," McNichols declared, "for people who need medical care and the services of a doctor. And they are going to get the benefits of the fund. They'll get them if it's the last thing we do."

The State Board of Welfare has started putting the final phase of the program into operation while the medical fund is building up. It has hit the $4.5 million level. Board members on the advice of staff experts also gave greater priority to hospital and nursing home phases, now serving about 4,000 oldsters. The final phase would benefit most of the rest of the 52,000 pensioners covered by the program. It would provide free medical service in the home or in the doctor's office, free drugs, prosthetic devices, eye glasses, dental and other services.

The governor made his comments after the National Annuity League, Colorado's major pension group, launched a campaign for a higher monthly award.

It would be a wonderful blessing if Gov. Brooks could center his attention on the similar need in this state, and would see to it that the bill which was defeated came up before the legislative body once more. No doubt it would pass, providing some who voted against it before knew some of these facts and understood all the circumstances which should be considered.

The oldsters are not on relief because they want to be, but because bad luck has forced it on them.

Day Care Center Need To Be Studied

The need for a Day Care Center in Lincoln for children of employed mothers will be studied by the Lincoln Community Council, according to Louis B. Finkelstein, Council president.

A day care center committee under the chairmanship of William Edgecomb has been organized to carry out the study.

The question of day care facilities in Lincoln arose from a study conducted by the Malone Community Center board of directors. The Malone board, on completion of its study, felt that there was a "definite need for a Day Care Center, but that such a project could not be undertaken by the Malone Center." The Malone board then referred the matter to the Community Council for further study.

The Leedy survey of Lincoln's health, welfare and youth services also recommended that the Community Council conduct a study of day care facilities in the ... Prof. Leedy pointed out in his study that "an important service in any community is care for children of mothers who are employed outside the home."

3 Rabies, One Polio Case Noted

One paralytic case of polio and 3 cases of rabies were reported in Nebraska for the past week, the State Department of Health announced.

The polio case was a 54-year-old Cozad man. He had not been vaccinated.

This brings the total in Nebraska to 4 this year, compared to two at the same time last year.

The 3 rabies cases, all involving dogs, were in Adams, Garden and Holt counties. They bring the 1959 total to 14, compared to 9 for the same time last year.

Tentative OK Given Single State Boundary Commission

The Legislature Wednesday tentatively approved creation of a single boundary commission to deal with Missouri, Iowa and South Dakota regarding establishing new boundaries along the Missouri River.

The single unit would replace the present 3 separate commissions.

The bill, LB709, was advanced on a voice vote after an amendment to delete Missouri from the bill was defeated by a close 17-19 margin. The amendment offered by Sen. John Aufenkamp of Julian, would have set the commission up to deal only with South Dakota and Iowa.

Sen. George Syas of Omaha took issue with the amendment. He said consideration of boundary problems with Missouri could be taken up if and when the commission brought in a bill changing the boundary with Missouri.

Aufenkamp said Nebraska stood to lose in a boundary realignment with Missouri.

Farm Labor Shortage Decreasing

The shortage of farm workers in Nebraska continued to decrease during the past week, according to the weekly farm labor bulletin issued by the State Division of Employment Security.

Demand still exists in some areas for year-around married and single farm hands.

The need for temporary workers has been slowed to a great extent by recent rains which have halted most field work. The expected upswing in the demand for temporary labor will probably be taken care of by vacationing students.

The Beatrice, Fremont, Hastings, Kearney, Nebraska City, Norfolk and Sidney areas still report a shortage of permanent farm hands.

The Alliance and Scottsbluff areas report continued migration of sugar beet workers.

5 Seek Study Of Railway Commission 'Efficiency'

By Betty Person

"A "comprehensive and detailed study of the organization and functioning of the State Railway Commission" was requested Wednesday through a legislative resolution introduced by 5 senators.

Those asking that the Legislative Council appoint a 5-member committee to conduct such an interim study were Sens. Hal Bridenbaugh of Dakota City, Edwin McHugh of Murdock, Ray Simmons of Fremont, J. W. Burbach of Crofton and John Cooper of Humboldt.

Resolution No. 40 noted that the Railway Commission "is charged with duties, both administrative and quasi-judicial in nature, which affect the rights and well-being of all citizens of the state."

Job Expanding

The resolution also noted that in the 53 years since the present Railway Commission was formed, its duties have been increasing constantly and that a study is warranted "to determine if changes should be made in order to bring about a more efficient and economical operation."

Sen. Bridenbaugh told The Star the proposed study would not be a head-hunting type of investigation, but simply an attempt "to see if we can't work out a plan to help them with their tremendous amount of work.

"We don't expect there's anything wrong," the Dakota City senator said, "but after we determine what is needed, perhaps we can help streamline their operations."

The resolution was referred to the Legislative Council's executive committee which will recommend to the Legislature whether such a study should be undertaken.

4 State Nurses Win Scholarships

Four Nebraska nurses, one from Lincoln and 3 Omahans, have received scholarships from the Nebraska Heart Assn. to attend courses on cardiovascular disease nursing. The awards were made by the nursing committee of the association as part of the professional education program.

Lois Leicht and Linda Kent, both of Omaha, and Mrs. Madine Jones, nurse at Bryan Memorial Hospital in Lincoln, will attend the Colorado University School of Nursing's workshop July 20 to 24. Catherine Sweeney of Omaha will attend a 10-day course July 6-17.

Diabetics Group Elects Officers At Initial Session

Miss Eleanor Anderson has been elected president of the newly-formed Lincoln Diabetics Assn.

Other officers elected at the organizational meeting are Miss Anna Smrha, vice-president; Mrs. Janice McCandless, secretary-treasurer; and Miss Caroline Kennedy, publicity chairman.

The 18-member organization discussed the possibility of affiliation with the American Diabetics Assn. Miss Smrha will be a lay delegate to the national meeting scheduled for June 6-7 in Atlantic City, N.J.

The association viewed pictures of last year's diabetic children's camp and discussed this year's session, set for June 7-20 at Camp Catron near Nebraska City.

Wins Divorce

Santa Monica, Calif. (AP) — The wife of North American Aviation's president J. Leland Atwood won an uncontested divorce in Superior Court.

Mrs. Allene G. Atwood mentioned an unidentified other woman in her suit. Mrs. Atwood charged her husband with causing her extreme mental suffering.

Committee Offers Pair Of Bills

The Judiciary Committee agreed to offer two new bills for introduction in the Legislature.

One would authorize the state to take over certain unclaimed and unpayable assets held by corporations which go out of business. These assets might include undeliverable dividend checks outstanding stock, the owners of which cannot be located, and similar assets.

The other would allow guardians holding real estate for minors to mortgage the real estate in order to pay off outstanding debts of the deceased parent.

The Education Committee, following a hearing, advanced to the floor LB720, a bill authorizing counties to set up a revolving fund to handle accounts in connection with special education for handicapped children. Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth had asked the bill to accommodate a situation in Thayer County.

New SAC Weather-Wire Net Ties LAFB, 56 Other Bases

The Lincoln Air Force Base was linked Wednesday to a new facsimile network providing high-altitude weather information to the Strategic Air Command at speeds doubling those achieved by present facilities.

The network, designed and installed by the Western Union Telegraph Co., was inaugurated Wednesday in joint ceremonies at SAC headquarters in Omaha and the National Weather Analysis Center at Suitland, Md.

Lt. Gen. Francis H. Griswold, SAC vice-commander, presided at Omaha while Maj. Gen. H. H. Bassett, USAF Air Weather Service Chief, was joined by George C. Creal, Western Union vice-president, at Suitland.

The new system, known as the Strategic Facsimile Network, links 57 weather stations at Air Force bases throughout the United States and makes possible the immediate transmission of up-to-the-minute weather maps to SAC air operation centers.

The strategic network, leased from Western Union for the Air Weather Service, will be operated by Air Force personnel. It has the largest high-speed facsimile network ever installed by Western Union, which has provided many such systems for both military and commercial use.

Gen. Thomas S. Power, SAC commander in chief, pointed out that "high speed weather transmission facilities are a vital factor in providing the means for round-the-clock readiness of SAC to retaliate swiftly in the event of attack on the country."

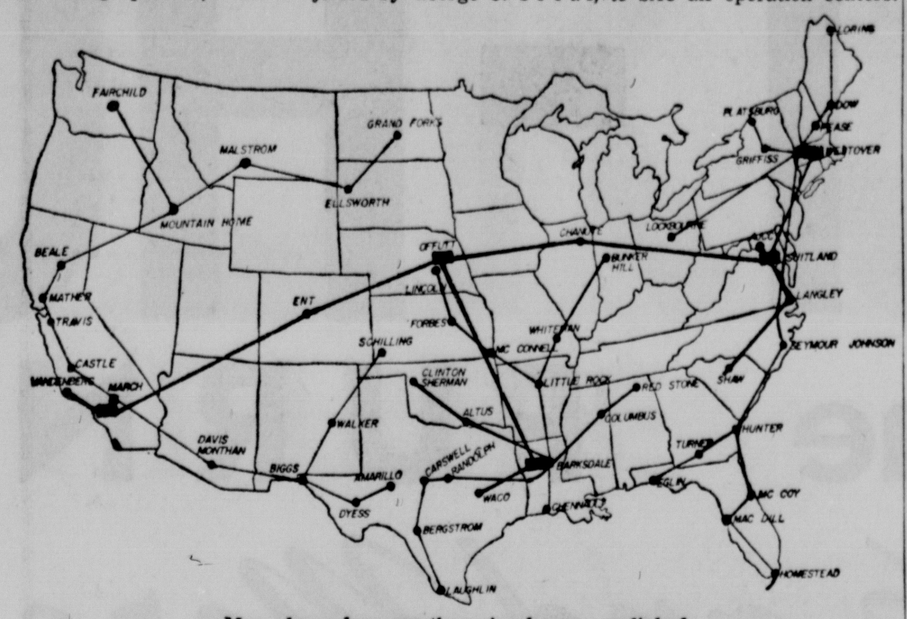

Banner Scanner

The new system, "scanning" at a rate twice as fast as any system currently in use, transmits maps approximately 3 times larger than any now being sent by facsimile. Charts and maps 18 by 36 inches can be transmitted within 30 minutes, officials said.

Global Weather Central at Offutt AFB, Omaha, is the center of the new network. There, world-wide weather data are gathered, analysed and plotted.

Over 500,000 word groups of weather information flow daily into the Offutt global weather center. As many as two million separate weather elements are considered and plotted on maps for periodic transmission over the network.

Emergency switching arrangements provide for immediate "seizure" of the complete network by any central station having priority.

Map shows how weather-wire bases are linked

North Route Data Sought By Senators

Three state senators asked Gov. Ralph Brooks Wednesday for information on surveys bearing on the route of the Interstate Highway west of Grand Island.

Referring to the State Highway Advisory Commission's recommendation Monday that the Interstate be located north of the Platte River, the senators wrote the governor:

"A great number of residents, including many in the South Platte area, do not feel that the evident decision to build the Grand Island-North Platte branch of the Interstate Highway north of the Platte River is based on adequate information. They also feel that the locality decision was made prior to any public hearings."

Facts First

Adequate information "in the form of complete surveys should be available before any location decision is finally formulated," the letter said.

The letter was signed by Sens. Richard D. Marvel of Hastings, Don Thompson of McCook and Kenneth L. Bowen of Red Cloud.

"We would sincerely appreciate up-to-date information as to the type of survey which is now available to back up the proposed decision in regard to the Grand Island-North Platte branch of the Interstate Highway," the letter said.

"We are interested to the extent that the most economically feasible route of the Interstate Highway be constructed."

Sen. Liebers Again On Guernsey Club Bd.

Sen. Otto Liebers of Lincoln has been re-elected to his fourth consecutive 5-year term as a director of the American Guernsey Cattle Club. The club serves 43,000 guernsey cattle breeders in the nation.

State Employes Have Friday Off

All state offices will be closed Friday as a compensation holiday for Memorial Day, Robert Conrad, Gov. Ralph Brooks' administrative assistant announced Wednesday.

Conrad himself, however, is taking no vacation. He will be in his office Thursday and Friday, and early Saturday morning.

Brock Proposes Great Plains Soil, Water Laboratory

Washington (AP) — A soil and water conservation research laboratory in the Great Plains area is proposed in a bill introduced by Rep. Larry Brock (D-Neb).

Brock would authorize up to $4 million by the Agriculture Department for the laboratory.

He said "there is a tremendous need for additional research in the conservation and development of the soil and water resources of the Great Plains region."

Lincoln Firms File For Incorporation

Herbert Brothers, Inc., Lincoln construction firm, has filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state.

An authorized capitalization of $100,000 was listed by incorporators Glen Herbert and Jack Herbert, both of Lincoln.

Another Lincoln firm, Bartlett-Schumacher - Venner Co., real estate, filed incorporation articles, listing an authorized capitalization of $150,000.

Incorporators are Raymond L. Bartlett, Edward H. Schumacher and Robert C. Venner, all of Omaha.

Cunningham Urges Fiscal Responsibility

...'Congress Duty'

Washington — Rep. Glenn Cunningham urged Congress to "restore the country to a high plane of fiscal responsibility."

The Omaha Republican said: "Once the credit of the United States is destroyed, then everything we have as a nation and as individuals will be gone and the Soviets can move in.

"If we cannot live within our income now in a period of record peacetime prosperity and with record peacetime taxes, I fear we will never do it."

The nation's gold reserve, Cunningham said, is leaving the country at a rapid rate.

Lost Balance

"This is due to the fact that we have, for the first time in modern days, lost the balance of trade," he noted. "We are buying more foreign goods and are selling less abroad."

Concluded the Omahan: "This leads me to the observation that this country is in trouble.

"We have worn the crown of world leadership for only 14 years, and it appears we are losing that leadership.

"Other countries, when they inherited world leadership, kept it for centuries.

"We are losing our position as a result of the irresponsible and ineffective leadership in Congress."

Commission Sets Liquor Hearings

The Nebraska Liquor Control Commission has set a hearing for 9:30 a.m. June 8 on the suspension or revocation of the retail Class C liquor license held by P. H. and W. C. McNeeley of Norfolk.

The two are charged with selling beer to a minor April 16 through their authorized agent Ed Rosenback.

A hearing on an appeal from action of the local governing body denying application for a retail Class C liquor license to James R. and Mildred Cooper of Decatur has been set for 2 p.m. Monday, June 1.

The license of Daniel D. Dymek, Grand Island, was suspended for 7 days beginning June 1.

The commission denied a beer license to Paul Mahler, Allen, for the reason that the village board recommended denial.

Prosecutor's School For Deputy Attorney

Recently-hired Dep. Co. Atty. William Blue will attend a short course for prosecuting attorneys Aug. 3-8 at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

The County Board approved sending Blue to the school, which County Atty. Elmer Scheele termed the best of its kind in the nation. The county will pay the $100 registration fee and Blue's expenses.

TRADE IN YOUR OLD FURNITURE

Stan Delaplane's POSTCARD

The garden furniture is moved out into the patio. And the barbecue gadget is oiled upon its up-and-down rack. For hey-ho, the summer season is here again and outdoor living is the thing.

Outdoor living is so important there are whole magazines of that name. Magazines telling you how to live outdoors, even though you have a perfectly good house right alongside.

☆ ☆ ☆

For a long time it has occurred to me that we could live outdoors all year 'round. Forget having a house at all. Just live outside if it is so good.

But the outdoor-living magazines are too cagey for that.

Here is a picture of people living outside. It was taken by the outdoor-living photographer:

"Home of the socially prominent Faddlefields shows the blends of gracious housing and outdoor living . . ."

Well, what do you think, for gracious sakes? It seems the Faaddlefields built this elegant scatter—I rate it at 80 Gs on a dull market. It seems they built it and then they decided to live outside.

Well, it was hard to live outside with the house in the way. So Mrs. Faddlefield called in the contractor again. And Mrs. Faddlefield opened the end of the mortgage, as we say. And they cut the house open on the side!

Now the Faddlefields live half in, half out.

You cannot tell where the house begins and where it leaves off.

☆ ☆ ☆

This shows what can be done if you set your mind and heart on it. As near as I can see, the Faddlefields have a roof over their heads but not much around them.

The main idea of a house these outdoor days is just to have a place for a few pots and pans. And a bed. You must have a bed. Or where else will the guests put their coats?

☆ ☆ ☆

Our own outdoor living is pretty sleazy. Almost makeshift, you might say. For the house still has walls on it. And you have to walk in and out of the doors.

To be really hep on outdoor living, you must have a patio.

The patio eventually has a small grape arbor over it.

The arbor sort of leads to the four-by-fours that hold up the house. And eventually you are inside. But in such a way that you can run right outside without touching plaster or wood.

Naturally, you get a little cold toward evening. When the sun goes down. In fact, you blooming well freeze! But that is what we have a house for, children.

"Would you mind running upstairs and getting me a sweater?"

Well, you run upstairs. And you holler down: "Where are they?"

"What?"

"The sweaters! Where are they?"

"Look in the top drawer!"

☆ ☆ ☆

So you look in the top drawer. And the second drawer. And the bottom drawer. And it turns out you find a sweater.

"I didn't mean that old thing," she says. "That's the GARDENING sweater. Never mind, I'll go up and do it myself."

You have no idea how a thing like this warms you.

Right to the cockles of your black, mean, nasty heart.

Kenneth Forward, Longtime NU English Prof, Will Be Honored On Sunday

A soft-spoken, white-haired "Victorian" gentleman who has probably taught more University of Nebraska students than any other faculty member still active in the institution, will be honored by his colleagues, friends and former students Sunday noon.

A brunch at the Cornhusker Hotel is planned for Kenneth Forward, associate professor of English and ont of the guiding lights of the present freshman program at the University.

The son of a Baptist minister who was born in New York state, lived his boyhood in Colorado, was educated in New England and spent his teaching career in Nebraska, will retire July 1.

He has taught Nebraskans the "mother tongue" since 1920 and in some cases has taught the grandchildren of his former students.

Forward, who once served as a reporter on the Boston Globe, has seen a remarkable change in the appearance of the University, but as English goes he has seen little change in the entering freshmen students.

"We still have a mixture, some excellent and some poor."

Upon Forward's arrival at Nebraska in 1920, students were inspired to write "beautiful thoughts," with little regard to grammar and spelling.

KENNETH FORWARD

Through his urging, more attention was given to this aspect.

During his career, the use of placement tests was begun in the University to place students in various levels of English instruction. Prior to these tests, students were grouped according to the amount of English they had in high school. But then it was found, according to Forward, that high schools were giving students English credit for being business managers of their high school newspapers.

Forward served as director of the freshman English program from 1946 to 1956 and it was during this period, according to his colleagues, that order was brought out of chaos.

Besides his patient work with beginning students, he also has other distinctions:

—One of the country's leading authorities on the 19th Century essayist, Thomas DeQuincey, an interest he acquired in the 1920's.

—Considered a "personal" friend of the young staff members who he believed should be protected, helped, and encouraged during their early years on the staff.

—An authority in the literature of Missouri and Mississippi Valleys.

After retirement, Forward and his wife plan to remain in Lincoln, where he'll spend more time with DeQuincey and with his recently acquired hobby of gardening.

Dr. Woodring Honored For Services To State

. . . Ag College Staffer Retiring July 1

A tireless worker in the detection of animal diseases in Nebraska was honored by a group of friends at a banquet here Wednesday night.

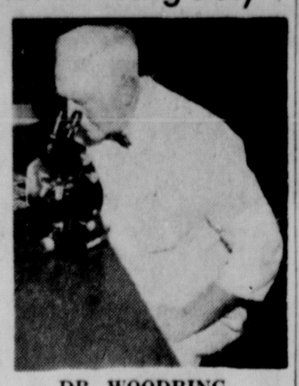

Dr. F. R. Woodring, associate animal pathologist at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture, is retiring July 1, as head of the diagnostic laboratory.

He is known widely over the state in livestock circles for his contributions in detecting diseases in animals brought to the laboratory by stockmen, veterinarians and owners of pets. A total of 1,500 animals are diagnosed annually in the laboratory.

Dr. Woodring has been responsible for the detection and control of rabies in Nebraska.

A graduate of Lincoln High School, Dr. Woodring received his degree from the Kansas City Veterinary College in 1914. Soon after he started practicing veterinary medicine in Nebraska City and Auburn.

He served as veterinary inspector for the U.S. Bureau of Animal Industry from 1915 to 1920 on the diagnosis, control and eradication of livestock diseases.

DR. WOODRING

Dr. Woodring served as assistant chief of the Nebraska Bureau of Animal Industry from 1920 to 1935. He also served on the Nebraska Board of Examiners in Veterinary Medicine.

In 1936 Dr. Woodring was appointed Lincoln city veterinary in the Department of Health in charge of sanitary control of food products of animal origin to eliminate animal diseases transmissible to man. He has served as a member of the city health advisory board.

In 1943 he was appointed associate animal pathologist at the College of Agriculture —the post he now holds.

Gothenburg Building Blast Claims Life Of 50-Year-Old

Gothenburg, Neb. (AP)—Ulysses O. Euignard, 50, of Gothenburg, died Wednesday night of burns suffered when an explosion wrecked the Dixie Inn building in Gothenburg Tuesday.

Euignard was in the building, closed for some time, inspecting it as a possible site for a machine shop.

He was standing at the head of the basement stairs when the blast occurred in the basement. He was burned over most of his body.

Cause of the blast is being investigated.

The building was completely destroyed. Euignard was found in an alley behind the debris, rolling in a puddle of water to extinguish the flames.

The cafe had been closed for 6 months and Euignard had considered buying it for a machine shop and display room.

Fire Chief Orva Nichols said the cause of the blast had not been determined.

Scientist Claims Cancer Death Rate Is 60 Times Higher For Smokers

Chicago (UPI) — The head of the American Cancer Society's Statistical Research Department claimed that 10 times as many cigaret smokers die from lung cancer as non-smokers.

He said the lung cancer death rate among "two-pack-a-day-or-more" smokers was "roughly 60 times as high as the death rate of non-smokers."

The scientist, E. Cuyler Hammond, said he based his conclusions on data collected in 3 "prospective" studies which corroborated earlier retrospective studies to find out if there was a relationship between the rising death rate from lung cancer and increased cigaret consumption.

Hammond also said it "appeared that death rates from pulmonary tuberculosis were higher among smokers than among non-smokers.

Symposium

The discussion took place during a symposium on "smoke, smoking and chest diseases," held at the meeting of the National Tuberculosis Association's Medical section.

Hammond's facts were attacked by Robert C. Hockett, associate scientific director of the Tobacco Industry Research Committee. Hockett suggested the "spotlight" should be shifted from smoking to "host susceptibility" in the search for fresh clues to the cause of lung cancer.

Hammond said the 3 prospective studies he referred to included:

—One made among British doctors by R. Doll and A. B. Hill.

—One made by Hammond himself and his associate, D. Horn, among 188,000 American men between the ages of 50 and 60.

'Several Years'

—One made of American veterans holding government life insurance.

Hammond said in each of these studies, the subjects were traced "for several years" after they answered a questionnaire on smoking habits.

"In respect to lung cancer, the 3rd prospective studies were in close agreement with each other and fully confirmed the findings in retrospective studies as previously described," Hammond said.

He said it was ascertained that "death rates from lung cancer are extremely low among non-smokers and rise very rapidly with amount of cigaret smoking. Lung cancer death rates are roughly 10 times as high among cigaret smokers as among non-smokers. The ratio is far greater than this for heavy cigaret smokers. The death rate of two-pack-or-more-a-day cigaret smokers was roughly 60 times as high as the death rate of non-smokers."

3 City Youths Win Dismissal

A 4-month-old case involving 3 underage boys charged with having alcoholic liquor in their possession at a Robbers Cave party was dismissed Wednesday by Lancaster County Judge Herbert A. Ronin.

Judge Ronin dismissed the charges against William Carver, 19, of 2566 Woodsdale, Jon L. Stromer, 19, of 2735 So. 11th, and Frank L. Teleen, 20, of 2601 So. 15th, for "insufficient evidence."

The youths were tried on the offense in February, but Judge Ronin allowed the opposing attorneys to submit written briefs on legal points involved in the case. He made his ruling after studying the briefs

Raid Netted 9

The 3 boys were among a group of 9 minors arrested in a raid on the cave the night of Jan. 28 by deputy sheriffs and a state liquor inspector.

Four boys pleaded guilty to having alcholic liquor in their possession and were fined $25 each the next day.

Janet Hergenrader, 17, of 1920 So. 17th, and Judy Swindle, 18, of 3108 Orchard, were also charged with being minors in possession of alcoholic liquor. Miss Hergenrader pleaded guilty but has not yet been sentenced. Miss Swindle pleaded innocent and has not yet been tried.

It is expected, however, that in view of the ruling on the case involving the 3 boys, the charges against both Miss Hergenrader and Miss Swindle will be dismissed.

2 Marine Pilots Die In Crashes On West Coast

El Toro, Calif. (UPI)—Two Marine fliers were killed in the flaming crashes of their jet fighters in separate accidents in the rugged mountains near here.

Marine officials said they were baffled by the crashes which occurred in clear weather while the planes were returning after midnight from cross-country flights. They crashed 30 minutes apart.

The planes, an F6U Crusader and an FJ4B, exploded and burned after they fell a mile apart within 35 minutes of each other.

"There was no logical reason for the crashes," a corps spokesman said.

The victims were identified as Capt. Joseph F. Mayfield Jr., 28, and 1st Lt. John Gothier, 24.

Actuaries Elect Angle President

John C. Angle, vice-president and actuary of Woodman Accident and Life Insurance Co. of Lincoln, was elected president of the Nebraska Actuaries Club for the coming year at a meeting of the group Wednesday night.

Hodge L. Jones Jr., actuary of Guarantee Mutual Insurance Co. of Omaha, was elected secretary-treasurer.

The purpose of the club is to exchange views and ideas relating to actuarial theory and practice. In addition, the club is maintaining a long-range program directed toward supporting the teaching of mathematics in the educational institutions of the state.

Second Chance Is Refused Liquor Pricing Measure

The Legislature declined Wednesday to reconsider its action of Tuesday in killing a liquor pricing bill.

Sen. David Tews of Norfolk failed 16-19 to win approval of his motion to reconsider LB429, a measure which would have authorized liquor wholesalers to fix minimum retail prices on their products.

Tews argued that the Legislature had not been paying attention when the bill was discussed Tuesday. He said the measure would protect small liquor dealers from being run out of business by drug and chain stores that sell liquor at cut prices as loss leaders. Liquor is a "peculiar breed" of merchandise and has to be controlled, he said.

But Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth termed the proposal "plain and simple price fixing."

"We don't want it. We don't need it. Let's go on with the business of the day," said Ruhnke.

The majority of his colleagues agreed.

Courthouse To Close Saturdays

The County Board formally approved the previously announced Saturday closing plans for the Lancaster County Courthouse.

All but 3 Courthouse offices will close Saturdays starting June 6. And effective June 1 uniform office hours of from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. will go into effect for all Courthouse offices.

Remaining open on Saturdays from 8 a.m. to noon on a limited basis will be the County Court, County Attorney's office and School Superintendent's office.

The Courthouse will be closed this Saturday for Memorial Day.

Amendments Fly As Sheriff's Mileage Debated

By Betty Person

A much-amended bill to increase the mileage allowance for county sheriffs was the subject of long and lengthy debate in the Legislature Wednesday afternoon, but lawmakers adjourned for the weekend without taking action on the bill.

LB310, introduced by Sens. John Cooper of Humboldt and Stan Portsche of Lincoln, was amended in Miscellaneous Subjects Committee to allow sheriff's 8 cents a mile for the use of their personal cars.

When the bill reached the floor, Sen. J. W. Burbach of Crofton moved to permit counties to increase the mileage allowance for all county officials using their own cars from 7 to 8 cents. His amendment carried on a voice vote.

Adoption of this amendment then provoked a long debate on whether sheriffs should be allowed a higher rate than other county officials.

At this point, Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff rose to "test the air" and offered an amendment to increase the sheriff's allowance to 10 cents a mile.

This prompted Sen. Harold Stryker of Rising City to offer an amendment to Carpenter's amendment providing that sheriffs would be allowed 10 cents a mile for travel within the county in which they were elected, but reduce the mileage allowance to 8 cents for travel outside the county.

Stryker's amendment was adopted 29-4, and Carpenter's amended amendment was adopted 20-14.

Sen. John Donner of Elgin then rose to declare that 10 cents a mile was "a whale of a lot of money" and moved to permit counties to purchase and maintain automobiles used by their sheriffs.

Carpenter then moved to amend Donner's amendment to provide that such purchase and maintenance be extended to cover cars used by all county officials.

Carpenter's amendment lost on a voice vote, but Donner's was adopted 21-11 on a record vote.

Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth then moved to strike a committee amendment which provided that counties could purchase special equipment for sheriff's cars, such as short wave radios and flashing lights, but his proposal was defeated 13-19.

Mansions

At this point, Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha offered an amendment which would require that counties furnish their sheriffs with a "mansion costing at least $100,000."

This prompted presiding officer, Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney, to comment, "How foolish can we get."

Several senators refused to let Klaver remove his amendment and on a requested record vote, the "amendment" was turned down by a 30-0 vote.

The bill was apparently ready to advance from general file, but Sen. A. A. Fenske declared it was difficult to know what it now contained, and he moved for immediate adjournment "to think about all this over the weekend."

The adjournment motion carried and the lawmakers hurried from the Chamber for a 4-day Memorial weekend recess, set to reconvene at 9 a.m. Monday.

Scholastic Group To Hear Hoffman

Wendell Hoffman, former Nebraska Wesleyan University journalism instructor and publicity director, will address the annual banquet of Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honorary society, Saturday.

The banquet, to be held at First Methodist Church, will mark the beginning of commencement week activities at the University.

Hoffman, formerly of Lincoln, became director of photographic services at the University of Nebraska after leaving the Wesleyan staff. He later moved to Manhattan, Kan., where he formed a world-wide freelance newsreel and television news service.

His were among the first filmed reports on Cuban dictator Fidel Castro, brought out of the jungles two years ago.

A Trio of Visitors

Guests in Lincoln this week are Mr. and Mrs. David Phipps and their son, David, Jr., who arrived from Denver a few days ago for a visit with Mr. Phipps' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl D. Phipps, and his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Phipps.

Mrs. Phipps will be remembered in former campus circles as Paula Withey, Delta Gamma at the University of Nebraska. Mr. Phipps, who is engaged in the practice of law in Denver, is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and the University of Nebraska College of Law —and is a member of Phi Kappa Psi.

From Lincoln Mr. and Mrs. Phipps and their son will go to Omaha to be the guests of Mrs. Phipps' family.

MADAM CHAIRMAN

MORNING

AFTERNOON

Lincoln YWCA, Ladies Day Out, 1:15 o'clock luncheon.

Bethany Mothers Club, 1 o'clock luncheon, Fellowship Hall, Bethany Christian Church.

TOWN TALK

—Homecomers are in the news this morning, and we'll start the procession with Mrs. Ralph Hill. Mrs. Hill is just back in town from New York City, where she attended the annual meeting of the American Mothers Committee which was held at the Waldorf — and Washington D.C. where she visited Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hoyt, formerly of Lincoln. Mrs. Hill was accompanied on the motor trip east by Mrs. Rolland Larmon of McCook, and the two travelers spent some time in Williamsburg, Va., before leaving the vicinity of Washington. Another high spot during their stay in Washington, was invitation from Mrs. Millard Tawes for luncheon at the Maryland Governor's Mansion. Mrs. Hill, you see, and Gov. and Mrs. Tawes are old friends.

* * *

—And home again, also, are Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Duxbury who have returned from Savannah, Ga., where they visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Lucas. Mr. and Mrs. Duxbury were in Savannah when Mrs. Lucas, the former Dorothea Duxbury, Pi Beta Phi at Nebraska, was named Mrs. Savannah—the first step in the Mrs. America contest. We might add that Mrs. Lucas was runner-up as Mrs. Georgia, although she did win first place in the cooking contest and, with Mr. Lucas, will be a guest at the Mrs. America finals.

* * *

—Back in town are Mr. and Mrs. Sam Zolot and their daughter, Miss Davida Zolot. Mr. and Mrs. Zolot went to Denver the past week end to be on hand for their daughter's graduation from Colorado Women's College on Monday.

Elected To Playhouse Board

The members of the Lincoln Community Playhouse met on Wednesday, May 27, for a luncheon and election of officers and board members. The meeting was held at the Hotel Cornhusker, and re-elected as officers were Leo Hill, president; Mrs. Shelden Hallett, vice president; and Mrs. Raymond Schermerhorn, secretary. Robert Schlater was elected treasurer.

Newly named to the board of directors were (pictured from left to right) Mrs. Charles Armstrong, properties chairman; Mrs. Frank Morrison, membersip chairman; Mrs. Richard Barribo, makeup; Ron Hull, construction co-ordinator; Mrs. Randall Ayer, box office, and (not pictured) Mrs. Peggy O'Connor, publicity.

Attendants Announced

This morning Miss Frances Allen, whose marriage to Robert Kaminski will be solemnized on Saturday, June 6, makes announcement of the bridal attendants.

For her maid of honor Miss Allen has chosen her sister, Miss Janet Allen, and the bridesmaid will be Miss Adele Kaiser.

Dennis Curtain will serve Mr. Kaminski as best man, and seating the guests will be Hal Rowe.

Miss Allen, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas Allen, and her fiance will be honored on Friday evening when Mr. Kaminski's mother, Mrs. H. F. Doerr, presides at dinner at Hillcrest Country Club.

The Star In Suburbia

Visitors, vacationers and the younger set provide our news notes as we have a "look see" at the latest activities of our Eastborough and Meadow Lane residents.

EASTBOROUGH

Arriving in Eastborough Tuesday was Mrs. Randcliff Haniman of San Diego, Calif., who is visiting at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Lt. and Mrs. William Giles.

Mrs. Haniman plans a month's visit in Lincoln.

Understand that Billy Verner, son of Capt and Mrs. William E. Verner, is convalescing at Bryan Memorial Hospital after undergoing surgery early this week.

The newest member of the bassinet brigade in Eastborough is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Lien who arrived at Lincoln General Hospital on Tuesday evening, May 26.

Included among the young man's most ardent admirers are his sisters, Barbara and Nancy, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Lien and Mrs. Lorene Cummins.

His maternal great grandmothers are Mrs. Ashley Alt and Mrs. Frank Cummins of Plattsmouth, who is visiting at the Lien home.

More news of the younger set concerns Thomas Patrick Sweeney, who was born at St. Elizabeth Hospital on Friday, May 22.

The proud parents are Mr. and Mrs. John R. Sweeney, and Thomas has a brother, Timmy, and two sisters, Susan and Mary.

His paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Sweeney, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bailey of Guide Rock are the maternal grandparents.

MEADOW LANE

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Birdsall are the parents of a daughter, Wendy Joyce, who was born at Lincoln General Hospital on Monday, May 11. Wendy has a brother, Timmy.

The grandparents are Mrs. Florence Birdsall of Ashland and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hanneman of Lincoln.

Clubwoman Of Year

Mrs. W. H. Schwartz (at right) was honored by the Junior Woman's Club of Lincoln Wednesday afternoon as the "Clubwoman of the Year" for her outstanding services to the organization and its projects. The award was made by Mrs. Emery Nelson (left) outgoing president of the club.

Chairman of the club's bridge department, Mrs. Schwartz participated in both the Centennial pageant and parade; is a volunteer worker at the Veterans Hospital; enlisted the aid of the club to provide food and clothing for a needy family; and on short notice, single-handedly prepared food for a party for Indian families at the Belmont Community Center.

Dear Abby . . .

Beyond His Understanding

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My Sunday School teacher says that God is everywhere. Please put this letter in the paper and maybe he will see it.

Dear God: Why did you let my brother die? When he was hit by the car my mother prayed to you to let him live but you wouldn't. My little brother was only two years old and he couldn't have sinned so bad that you had to punish him that way. Everyone says you are good and can do anything you want to do. You could have saved my little brother but you let him die. You broke my mother's heart. How can I love you?

PETER

DEAR PETER: Your question is one that has troubled religious men for thousands of years. One great thinker wrote a book about it. It is called "JOB" and is part of the Bible. It says that the suffering of innocent people is something we cannot understand. But this much is sure: Death is not a punishment. It is one of life's mysteries. Speak to your minister, Peter. Communicate with God by praying, and He will help you in your search for wisdom and goodness and help make your Mommy happy again.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I was a sailor for eleven years and lived in 24 countries but it took a country gal to show me how dumb I was. I dropped into my hick home town for a visit and before I left town this kid says, "Hold it, Sailor, I'm going to have your baby." So I married her. We waited. The girl didn't lie. She HAD a baby. Two years later! So tell that soldier who thinks he got roped in not to be excited. The stork will arrive. That long-legged buzzard lives at our house. We have nine kids now.

A TAMED WOLF

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I want to help a couple of dear friends get married on the q.t. You see the gentleman does not have the approval of his children. (Their reasons are purely selfish.) This couple wants to know if they could make application for a marriage license without having it appear in the local newspaper. The lady is 67 and the gentleman is 73. Sincerely,

MUTUAL FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: A clergyman or lawyer could answer this question for you.

☆ ☆ ☆

CONFIDENTIAL TO PERPLEXED NURSES: I have news for you. Sometimes you have to bring up the father before you can bring up the children.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MARGE: Talk is not cheap. When words are spoken in anger, talk can be very expensive.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed envelope.

Come, fill the cup!

You won't NEED to ask for a coffee refill at the Cornhusker. Our people practice the "Bottomless Cup" policy. It's the only way we've found to satisfy the clamor of our patrons who say they just can't get enough of that fresh, fragrant, special-blend Cornhusker coffee.

It's the best thing that ever happened to those little brown beans from Brazil—the careful blending, roasting, and brewing that produces such a teasing aroma and rich, satisfying flavor.

Food fans know where the coffee is superb, the food follows suit. Give our chefs a chance to prove it, soon. Just follow your nose to the sign of the brimming coffee cup—Ye olde Cornhusker Coffee House!

Club Is Forty-Five Years Old

There were no serious parking problems when the Double Six Club members began their meetings back in 1914. There were no discussions of TV programs, no favorite radio stars to mention. But there was spring house cleaning to talk about—the best methods of making chocolate cakes to exchange—and of course there were the tastes and talents of husbands and children to contribute to pleasant conversation.

Of the original 12 members five remain in Lincoln and meet at regular intervals. One of the meetings, a luncheon, was held on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Esther Lyons, but luncheon places were arranged for six—A former member, Mrs. Gertrude Babcock, now residing in Long Beach, Calif., is visiting in Lincoln and attended the meeting.

Is Honored

Miss Connie Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard E. Jones, who will become the bride of Steve Girardot, Friday, June 5, was presented with a linen shower Tuesday evening when she was honored by Mrs. E. H. Schmidt, Mrs. W. D. Roberts and Mrs. Earl Lampshire. Twenty guests attended the dessert which was held at Mrs. Schmidt's home.

Miss Jean Girardot of Minneapolis, Minn., will be the maid of honor and Miss Ruthie Martin will be the bridesmaid. Miss Jones will have as her junior bridesmaids her sisters, Miss Nancy Jones and Miss Susie Jones.

Serving as best man will be Conrad Kilian and the ushers are Robert Hinrichs, John Allingon and Modras Richters.

On Thursday evening, June 4, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll J. Girardot will entertain at Tillman's Plaza at a pre-nuptial dinner honoring their son and Miss Jones.

Boys Town Collects Second State Title With 2-0 Victory

Early Wynn Halts Tribe In 5-1 Win

Chicago (AP) — Chicago's Early Wynn hurled his 256th major league victory Wednesday, a fine 5-hitter, for a 5-1 decision over the first-place Cleveland Indians.

The season's 7th victory against 3 defeats for the 39-year-old Wynn, left the Indians only one game ahead of the runnerup White Sox.

After yielding a run in the first, Wynn had easy sailing until the 9th when pinch-hitter Tito Francona walked and Ed Fitz Gerald doubled with one out. Wynn was replaced by Gerry Staley, who got Minnie Minoso on a roller to 3rd and Rocky Colavito on a game-ending line drive to third baseman Bubba Phillips.

Wynn's task in out-pitching 22-year-old Gary Bell was simplified by Earl Torgeson's two-run homer in the 6th and Sherm Lollar's solo homer in the 8th. Bell, weakening in the late innings, suffered his 3rd defeat against 4 victories.

Wynn now has beaten the Indians 7 straight times without defeat since they traded him to Chicago two years ago.

Bell was touched for a run in the 5th on a walk and Phillips' twobagger. In the 6th, the Sox scored 3 times. Singles by Nellie Fox and Larry Doby produced the first run and then Torgeson blasted his two-run homer into the right field stands.

Soo 9 Humbles Chiefs By 5-4

. . . Phil Groth Absorbs Loss

Lincoln Star Special

Sioux City, Ia.—Fifth-place Sioux City's Soos showed little respect for Three-I League leader Lincoln here Wednesday night, snapping a 3-game losing streak with a 5-4 win.

Shortstop Dick Howser scored the winning run for Manager Bill Capps' charges after the two teams had swapped big innings in the early stages of the game.

Never Catch Up

Howser's run—via a bunt single, wild pitch and John Cunningham's single — cushioned the Soos' lead to 5-3, and Lincoln never quite caught up.

The Chiefs got to Soo reliefer Don Woerner for a single tally in the 8th, but the young righthander weathered the storm and picked up his first victory of the campaign.

Lefty Phil Groth—starting for the Chiefs and leaving early—was the loser, taking his second setback against a trio of wins

Loses His Control

Groth, staked to a 3-0 lead via Deacon Jones' 3-run homer in the leadoff inning, lost control after one was out in the Sioux City second.

Singles by Al Scott and Howser plus walks to Soo pitcher Gordon Nevers, Cunningham and Tom McDonald sent Groth to the showers in favor of Carl Hubbell Winton.

A ground ball by Sioux City's Tony Cannizzo, followed by a Lincoln error on the same play, chased across Soo runs No. 3 and 4 before the side was retired.

The issue stayed at 4-3 until Howser circled the bases with the winning run in the 7th.

Hutch Undecided

The two clubs play the second of a 3-game set here tonight. Lincoln manager Ira Hutchinson was undecided about his pitching selection after having first announced that Winton was slated to go.

Lefthander Jack Bristol, 1-1 on the campaign, is slated to toe the mound for the Soos.

Baseball NSAA Problem

One of the biggest headaches for the Nebraska Schools Activities Assn. is the annual state baseball tournament. It can be rather expensive for an affair which draws as little interest as the diamond sport among Nebraska high schools.

Usually held a full week after the state track meet, the baseball tourney finds most small schools have already dismissed students for the summer. A coach who brings his team here often does so without pay.

Some changes may be in store. The NSAA is pondering several moves.

One idea is to advance the tourney a full week, which makes it easier on some schools but prevents larger schools from getting in more than a few regular season games. Another suggestion is to bring the Class B and C teams in a week ahead of the Class A schools.

With the state track meet slated a week later next year, moving baseball ahead will make both championships slated the same week.

NSAA Secretary C. C. Thompson, forced into playing the entire Class A tourney in one day by rain this week, was considering the possibility of making each class a one-day affair.

One Day Per Class?

Under this idea, Class C would play both semi-final games and the final game on Monday, Class B on Tuesday, and Class A either on Wednesday or perhaps a week later.

This would save overnight expenses for many teams.

Biggest objection might come from the team with only one pitcher. A valid argument, however, is that a high school lad shouldn't pitch games on consecutive days, anyway.

In fact, a rule might be enacted limiting a pitcher to 9 innings per day, for instance.

All the proposals are in the "mulling-over" stage, with nothing decided as yet.

So far, no one has come up with a proposal which would prevent me from getting my annual sunburn at the state baseball tournament. I'd back such a proposal to the hilt.

Another Knaub At Scottsbluff

There's another Knaub at Scottsbluff. But rival high school track coaches needn't worry. Coach Wayne Binfield isn't likely to have another Bearcat ace in this member of the family.

This one is Carol, 6th grade sister of Dick, Bob and Ray. In a grade school track meet recently, she won 5 events, ran the anchor leg on the relay in the 6th event, and topped boys' marks in two of the events.

Carol broad jumped 15 feet and ran the 50 yard dash in 6.7 for her top marks.

Cathedral Drops In Class A Final

Southeast, LHS Tumbled In First Round Matches

By Paul LeBar

Boys Town's Cowboys parlayed a ground ball single with 5 walks in the second inning of play Wednesday afternoon while gaining their second Class A state baseball crown with a 2-0 verdict over Omaha Cathedral.

Coach Skip Palrang's winners garnered only one hit off the deliveries of two Cathedral hurlers, but able righthander John Slobodnik preserved the Cowboys' slim lead.

Boys Town, surprise 6-3 winner over defending champion Lincoln Southeast in a semifinal game, was outhit 4-1. The Cowboys took advantage of wildness on the part of Cathedral freshman lefthander Dan McGinn and got their winning tallies early.

That left mopping up chores to Slobodnik, the Boys Town mayor, who was invincible until the late innings. The stylish youngster had a no-hitter going until one was out in the Cathedral 6th.

Then Jack Hug, Cardinal catcher, lived on a slow roller down the 3rd base line, and teammate Frank Paladino followed with a Texas Leaguer.

Slobodnik met the challenge by striking out Don Finnegan and Jim O'Donnell.

Cathedral, however, went down fighting. With one out and a Cardinal perched on first base in the 7th, the losers gambled for all the goods when Terry Velasquez laced a safety to right field.

Frank Pecha, the base runner, took one look at the drive and headed for 3rd. A throw from right fielder Rich Hinten to second baseman Jim Bishop and 3rd baseman Ray Keele cut him down, and that squelched the rally.

Boys Town's Aulick Lane and Bill White scored the winning tallies with two down in the second when Cathedral starter McGinn walked 4 in a row.

Neither team allowed the other a break through fielding errors, and Slobodnik, after passing 6 on walks through the first 5 innings, was the master in the clutch.

Manny Fierro, a plucky little sophomore, was the star of Boys Town's 6-3 upset over Southeast, promoting the Cowboys to the finals.

Over a 10-inning course, he spaced 6 hits and struck out 17 Knights.

He also collected 4-for-5 at the plate and drove in the decisive tally in the 10th.

Southeast's Keith Sieck was the loser in relief of starter Bill McKenzie.

Cathedral splurged for 4 runs in the second inning, wiping out a 1-0 Lincoln High lead and wrapping up the decision during a 7-2 win in the other semifinal game.

Link starter Don Burt was the victim of a trio of errors behind him as Cathedral rode Finnegan's steading pitching to the victory.

Tom Nystrom, Phil Gilbert and Gary Powell each had two hits for the losers.

No Hard Feelings Now

Harvey Haddix of the Pittsburgh Pirates (left) and Joe Adcock of the Braves are on friendly terms before Wednesday night's game at Milwaukee. Adcock's hit in the 13th Tuesday night spoiled a perfect game for Haddix in a 1-0 Brave victory.

Braves Nudge Pirates By 4-3

Milwaukee (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves squeezed out a 4-3 victory over Pittsburgh Wednesday night when Don McMahon took the mound in the final inning to put down a Pirate rally and save the game for veteran Warren Spahn.

Spahn had struck out two men in the final inning and was within one out of gaining the 47th shutout of his long and brilliant career when an error gave the Pirates a life and enabled Pittsburgh to come back with 3 unearned runs.

McMahon struck out Dick Schofield to end the game and give Spahn his 6th victory of the season against 5 defeats. Spahn now has won 252 games.

Eddie Mathews, the National League's leading home run hitter got his 15th 4-base blow of the season in the 5th inning.

Spahn struck out Dick Stuart and Bob Skinner in the 9th. Bill Mazeroski then singled and Don Hoak doubled, sending Mazeroski to 3rd. Roman Mejias was safe on Johnny Logan's error, Mazeroski scoring and Hoak taking third. Big Ted Kluszewski batted for Don Gross and lined a double to center, scoring Hoak and Mejias. McMahon then came in to put out the fire.

The Braves got their first run in the second inning on a double by Wes Covington followed by Joe Adcock's single.

Charlie Coe Beaten In British Amateur Round

Sandwich, England (AP) — Three Walker Cup players, including whiz kids Jack Nicklaus and Deane Beman, and a pair of par-busting soldiers carried U.S. hopes Wednesday into the 5th round of the British Amateur Golf Championship.

In an exhausting double round of eliminations which saw the upset ouster of U.S. titleholder Charlie Coe, the strong-backed Nicklaus and Beman won through, along with 43-year-old Bill Hyndman III, playing the best golf of the tournament; Master Sgt. Harold Ridgley and Lt. Bob Magee.

Of the 8 Americans who started the day's play, Coe and Lt. Bill Gibson of Louisville fell in morning 3rd round matches while Maj. Denton Henderson of San Francisco was the lone U.S. loser in the afternoon.

Coe, Walker Cup captain from Oklahoma City, rallied after turning 4-down but couldn't catch Murray Lawrence, a little known Englishman, who won 1 up.

Red Home Runs Blast Phillies 10-4

Cincinnati (AP)— The Cincinnati Reds clubbed Philadelphia pitchers for 4 home runs Wednesday night and breezed to a 10-4 victory.

Frank Robinson got two of the home runs. The others were by Vada Pinson and Ed Bailey. Pinson also had a double and a triple.

Three of the homers came off veteran Robin Roberts in less than 4 innings.

It was the first time since May 2 that the Reds had gotten into double figures in scoring.

Bob Purkey pitched all the way for Cincinnati, building his record to 5-5. He also had two hits and drove in two runs.

Pinson's double and two singles, helped along by a balk, started the Reds off with two runs in the first inning. In the 3rd they started teeing off with home runs off Roberts.

Pinson tagged one, and Robinson got his first one in that frame. Robinson's blast was a tape measure job that went over the sign atop a laundry behind left field.

Bailey's home run and a single by Roy McMillan leading off the 4th were enough to send Roberts to the showers and bring on Curt Simmons for the first time this season. McMillan then scored on Pinson's triple.

Purkey himself drove in the next two runs in the 5th, and Robinson got his second homer of the night in the 6th.

The Phils' first 3 runs off Purkey came in the 4th on a single by Ed Bouchee, doubles by Harry Anderson and Willie Jones and a single by George Anderson. The rally might have lasted longer, but George Anderson was caught in a rundown when he tried to continue on to second on his single.

Baltimore Beaten 6-0 By Nat Duo

Baltimore (AP) — Harmon Killebrew's 16th homer with two on base in the first inning and Camilo Pascual's no-hit pitching until the 7th inning were more than enough to carry the Washington Senators to a 6-0 victory over the Baltimore Orioles Wednesday night.

Pascual's no-hitter dissipated when lead-off Gene Woodling singled between first and second to open the Oriole 7th. Albie Pearson, traded by Washington last night to Baltimore, followed suit with a shot to left, but a double play erased the threat.

The 25-year-old Pascual had walked two Orioles in a row in the 3rd to provide them with their only previous runners.

He walked one more in the 8th and struck out 6 to breeze to his 4th victory in 8 decisions.

Killebrew's circuit clout in the opening inning after a bunt single by Faye Throneberry and Bob Allison's infield safety came off pitcher Arnold Portocarrero. It sent Portocarrero to his 4th defeat without a victory. Portocarrero was last year's most victorious pitcher for the Orioles with 15 triumphs and 11 defeats.

Frisco Homers Rip Cards, 9-4

. . . Stan Hits First On Coast

San Francisco (AP) — Three home runs, 3 Cardinal errors and a stiff wind helped San Francisco to a 9-4 victory over St. Louis Wednesday.

Orlando Cepeda, Willie Mays and Andre Rodgers walloped galeblown drives into and over the stands for the Giants.

The Cards made 3 errors, two on wind-blown flies. The Giants also had a pair on misjudged fly balls.

Johnny Antonelli, although pitching only 5 innings, got credit for his 6th victory against two defeats. He got spendid relief help from Al Worthington. Antonelli gave up homers to Stan Musial and Lee Tate.

The Cards' Gary Blaylock gave up 7 hits over the distance and took his second loss against two victories.

The Giants broke the game open in the 8th with the score 6-4 when Mays hit his 9th home run of the season and Rodgers followed with a two-run blast. It was Rodgers' 6th.

Musial's 400-foot poke into the right centerfield seats was his 4th of the season but the first he has hit on the west coast in two seasons of play.

Tate's left field homer was his first as a major leaguer.

The Giants first two runs came in the second inning.

BOWDRY UPSETS ANTHONY

Chicago (AP)—Jesse Bowdry, a 3 to 1 underdog, battered No. 1 light heavyweight contender Tony Anthony for a unanimous decision in a vicious 10-rounder Wednesday night.

The nationally televised bout in Chicago Stadium was a brutal affair from start to finish with Bowdry scoring with explosive combinations against the befuddled favorite.

There were no knockdowns, although Anthony often was pinned helplessly against the ropes.

There scarcely was a clinch as each fighter went after the other hammer and tong at a furious pace.

Anthony, ranked the No. 1 contender for 175-pound champion Archie Moore's crown, never could get untracked against the hard-pressing Bowdry.

Dogs Promote Change In Swede's Roadwork

Grossinger, N.Y. (AP)—Ingemar Johannson, unbeaten European ring champion, says he has had to shift his roadwork from the route former champion Rocky Marciano ran because of a pack of dogs.

"At first it wasn't bad," he said. "I used it for wind sprints. But there are too many of them now, and they bother me. So I changed my route."

CUBS HALTED BY DRYSDALE

Los Angeles (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers got 5-hit pitching from sidearming Don Drysdale Wednesday night and took over 3rd place in National League by whipping the Chicago Cubs, 4-1.

Drysdale, who hadn't pitched a complete game against the Cubs since June of 1957, picked up 11 strikeouts and extended his season total to 81, highest in the major leagues. He walked 3.

Drysdale lost his bid for a shutout when Ernie Banks sliced a home run over the barrier just inside the right field foul line in the 6th inning. It was Banks' 11th homer. He is only the second right hand hitter to homer into right at the Coliseum. Charlie Neal of the Dodgers turned the trick last year.

Drysdale's victory was his 5th against 4 losses. Glen Hobbie went 6 innings for Chicago, giving up all 4 Los Angeles runs, and suffered his 4th defeat. He has won 5.

Padilla Saves Reds' Triumph

Topeka, Kan. (AP) — Right-hander Joe Padilla put down a Des Moines uprising in the 9th inning here tonight as Topeka edged the Demons 4-3 before 577 fans.

It was the second 9th-inning relief save for Padilla in as many nights. It enabled George McWilliams to even his season's mark at 2-2, and it handed the first defeat of the year to Des Moines left-hander John Anderson, now 3-1.

Donovan, Halcomb Continue Tradition

(Fourth in a series reviewing the 1959 Nebraska prep track season and the all-time honor roll. Today--the jumpers.)

By Al Beebe

For two of Nebraska's outstanding 1959 track athletes, their performances were simply carrying on the tradition of their school.

Larry Donovan is another in a long line of fine pole vaulters from Scottsbluff. Rich Halcomb is the latest of many leading broad jumpers produced by Omaha Tech. Both boys gained high places on the all-time honor roll of top 25 performances.

Donovan, whose 13-0 vault is a new state record, moves up to second on the all-time list behind the 13-¾ by Merlin Lawrence of Alliance. He joins 4 other Scottsbluff vaulters on the honor roll.

Kearney's Dick Lammers, who was injured before the state meet, is 3rd on the all-time vault list at 12-10 ¾ and has another year of action. Other vaulters to gain the list were Ord's Bill Martin, tied for 15th at 12-5, and Elden Hobza of Schuyler, tied for 24th with his 12-2 leap.

Halcomb, who takes 3rd on the all-time list with his 23-2 ¾ broad jump, did not have any company in gaining the list this season.

The high jump provided 4 new names in the all-time roster, although none dented the top 10. Omaha Central's John Nared, a junior, came close with his 6-2¼ leap, which ties for 11th.

Miles Humphrey of Mullen and Bartley's Eugene Premer, the latter another undergraduate, both cleared 6-2 and are in a massive tie for 15th. And Lincoln High's Juris Jesifers, junior all-round ace, is among a group of 8 who cleared 6-1 ¾ and tie for 25th spot.

There are several other standouts in all 3 events who will return next year. These include vaulter Dennis Albers of Hastings, Dave Hagglund of Omaha North, twice a Gold Medal high jump winner, and broad jumper Roger Merchant from Polk.

Here is the all-time top 10 honor roll:

Pole Vault

1. 13-¾, Lawrence, Alliance, 1958.
2. 13-0, Donovan, Scottsbluff, 1959.
3. 12-10¾, Lammers, Kearney, 1959.

Yankees Shackle Red Sox

New York (AP) — Ryne Duren choked off a ninth-inning Boston threat after two runs were in Wednesday to save a 3-2 New York Yankee victory for Duke Maas.

Home runs by Andy Carey and Bill Skowron had given Maas a 3-0 lead going into the ninth but a two-run homer by Pete Runnels finished Maas.

Don Buddin opened the ninth with a single and Runnels lined his third homer of the year into the lower stands in right. Manager Casey Stengel called for Duren. After Vic Wertz singled, Duren retired Dick Gernert, Jackie Jensen and Frank Malzone to end it.

Carey's homer with two out in the fifth was the first hit off Ike Delock. The ball sailed into the lower stands in right, a blow in defense of his third base job that may be threatened by the arrival of Hector Lopez from Kansas City. It was his second homer of the year.

Skowron smashed No. 7 after Mickey Mantle walked for the third time in the eighth inning. Murray had just taken over the pitching job in that inning after Delock had been lifted for a pinch hitter.

Ted Williams, sidelined by a pulled leg muscle, got into the game to bat for Delock in the eighth. Gary Geiger, who got on base when Bill Skowron booted his grounder, was on first with two out when Williams grounded out.

4 Omaha Bakeries Affected By Strike

Shortage Of Bread Not Expected At Least Through Memorial Day

Omaha (AP) — About 600 bakery workers were on strike Wednesday at 4 major Omaha bakeries—Peter Pan, Omar, Continental, and Schulze.

And pickets paraded in front of the 4 plants.

A bakery spokesman said some of the plants may attempt to continue at least limited operations, but that no clear picture was yet available.

He said a shortage of bread in the Omaha area was not expected at least through Memorial Day because deliveries had been heavy the last two days and some of the slack could be taken up by other local bakers and out of town shipments

The bakery employers said the negotiations between Local 215 of the Bakery and Confectionary Workers Union and the Omaha-Council Bluffs Bakery Employers Labor Council produced no agreement and the union had refused to continue negotiations unless employers would agree to a 35-hour week in place of the present 40-hour week. The union asked that the reduction be made over a 3-year period.

★ ★ ★

No Immediate Effect Seen Here

The Omaha bakers' strike is expected to have no immediate effect on distribution of Omaha-baked bread in Lincoln, but spokesmen here indicated continuance of the strike may cause shortages over the weekend.

Omar Bakery here said their production is taken care of through Friday, but beyond that "we don't know."

The vice-president of Peter Pan in Omaha, Milton Peterson, said bread will be supplied to Lincoln.

A Continental Baking Co. spokesman in Omaha said they "will do the best they can" to take care of the Lincoln area, and if necessary, will limit distribution to bread only.

Polio Claims Cozad Man

. . . 1st '59 Death

Grand Island, Neb. (AP) — George Hughbank, 54, Cozad farmer, died in St. Francis Hospital here of paralytic polio.

State Health Department records showed this to be the first polio death of 1959.

He had never been inoculated with Salk vaccine.

Hughbank was paralyzed when brought to the hospital and placed in an iron lung May 18.

His death was the first polio death reported in the Grand Island area this year.

Father's Decision OK With King Baudouin

Omaha (AP) — "I trust my father in any decision he would make."

That was the reaction Wednesday of the 28-year-old King of the Belgians to his father's decision to move with his family from the royal residence in Belgiums.

Young King Baudouin, here on a tour of the country, denied sugestions his father was an "unofficial minister."

King Baudouin

"That isn't so," he said.

In Belgium, where there has been criticism that King Leopold has allegedly influenced his bachelor son's decisions, the planned move won quick praise from the Belgian press.

But when Baudouin was asked about it by reporters Wednesday, his voice lowered, he halted once in midsentence and had to to be asked to repeat part of his answer.

Leopold abdicated the throne in favor of his son in 1951.

The king talked with newsmen on a ramp at Offutt Air Force Base after a tour of the underground command post of the Strategic Air Command.

"Perfection of technology," he said describing what he had seen in the subterranean chambers where America's global bomber force is directed.

Flys To Sedalia

Baudouin had arisen at 6:45 a.m. (CST) in order to make the tour and be ready at 9:30 a.m. to takeoff for a SAC base, Whiteman Air Force Base at Sedalia, Mo.

Baudouin's 20-day tour of the U.S. is nearing its close.

House Nails Down Okay On New Federal Prison

Washington (UPI) — The House nailed down an earlier decision to spend $2,000,000 as a down payment on a new Alcatraz-type federal prison urgently requested by the Eisenhower administration.

A 266-133 rollcall vote backed up tentative approval given the proposal earlier and completed action on a $651,896,700 money bill to finance the Departments of Justice and State and related agencies for the year starting July 1. The bill went to the Senate.

The House also stood fast in shouting down for the second time an attempt by Rep. John Bell Williams (D-Miss) to delete $280,000 to finance the Civil Rights Commission from July 1 until its existing authority ends Nov. 9.

Maximum Security

But the biggest battle was over the proposed new maximum security penitentiary. A Justice Department committee has recommended that the prison for hardened criminals be located at the Crab Orchard Federal Wildlife Refuge near Marion, Ill.

The administration had asked for the full $9,875,000 to build the new prison to relieve crowding in outmoded existing institutions. The House Appropriations Committee refused to approve any money for it. Rep. Kenneth J. Gray (D-Ill), backed by the Illinois House delegation, proposed the $2,000,000 down payment.

The House also sent to the Senate a $10,255,500 money bill for operation of the President's executive office. The bill also carried $3,083,000 for agencies related to the White House office operation.

3 Dakota Youths Burned To Death In Home Blaze

Rapid City, S.D. (AP)—Three young children burned to death Wednesday night and their mother suffered lacerations when she tried to smash a window in their farm home to rescue them.

The victims were Tommy, 3; James, 1; and Patty, 2 months, children of Mr. and Mrs. John Gapp, who operate a chicken farm about 18 miles north of here.

Mrs. Gapp and two older children were outside in a garden when the blaze broke out.

An unidentified fireman from Deadwood, S.D., who was driving by, said he saw a puff of smoke and then the one-story home burst into flames. He called for help.

Bill Drafter's Claim Junked By Committee

The Legislature's Salaries and Claims Committee Wednesday turned down 5-2 a request from Edward F. Carter Jr. that he be paid $635 for services in drafting 3 legislative bills for the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission.

Carter, a Lincoln attorney, is a special assistant attorney general assigned to the Liquor Commission on a part-time basis. He had told the committee that drafting of the bills was above and beyond his assigned duties for the Commission.

Amendment Costs

Sen. John Aufenkamp of Julian, chairman of the Salaries and Claims Committee, reported the Nebraska Press Assn. turned in two claims Wednesday for publishing constitutional amendments for the 1958 election.

One claim was for $37,475 to cover the cost of publication of 7 proposed constitutional amendments which the 1957 Legislature voted to put on the 1958 ballot.

The second claim of $6,915 was to cover the cost of publishing the two constitutional amendments to legalize bingo and establish a formula for taxing public power districts. Both were placed on the ballot through initiative petitions.

Lancaster, Douglas Juvenile Court Bill Passes 1st Test

A bill allowing Douglas and Lancaster counties to set up separate juvenile courts if so desired by the voters passed its first test vote in the legislature Wednesday.

LB127 was advanced on a voice vote over protests by Sen. George Syas of Omaha, an introducer, against the amendments which took the same rights away from the other 91 counties.

LB127, introduced by Sens. Syas, Otto H. Liebers of Lincoln and Norman A. Otto of Kearney, was completely replaced in the judiciary committee by an amendment which forms the text of the bill.

As amended, it allows counties of population of 50,000 or more to establish separate juvenile courts if authorized to do so by the voters.

Over Divorces

It would also authorize the court to have jurisdiction over divorces and aunnulments when not fully occupied with juveniles.

As passed, the counties would pay the judge's salary, and it is to be the same salary as that of district judges.

A motion by Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha to require the state to pay the salaries was withdrawn in the face of critical debate.

Sen. Syas said Douglas County would accept the bill, but "it's not right because it keeps out-state people from having the same thing."

He reminded the senators that last Nov. 4 the state voted in favor of the privilege.

'Erased Vote'

"You've erased the peoples' vote," Syas said. "If several counties had wanted to go together for a juvenile court court they should have been allowed to do so," he said.

Syas also criticized Supreme Court Judge Edward Carter for his part, as head of the Bar Assn.'s judiciary council, in writing the amendment which replaced the bill.

"He stepped completely out of character when he got into this thing," he said.

Other bills advanced from general file:

LB720 (Committee on Education)—allows county boards to set up revolving funds to pay teachers of "educable" physically or mentally handicapped children, and to be reimbursed by local school districts, in turn reimbursed by the State Department of Education.

LB488 (Burbach, Cooper)—Makes violations of public grain warehousing laws, grain taxing, licensing and purchase-for-resale regulations a misdemeanor.

LB238 (Carpenter)—Gives hourly state employes the same holidays as received by employes on a monthly basis.

LB622 (Syas)—Authorizes the Game, Forestation and Parks Commission to enter into contracts or lease agreements for special purposes, and authorizes a publication for which a fee can be charged (outdoor Nebraska).

The legislature also approved a request by Sen. Ray C. Simmons of Fremont to withdraw LB106 on the grounds that its provisions were taken care of in other legislation.

The bill would have required the Game, Forestation and Parks Commission to maintain the Fremont recreation area.

8 Defense Fellowships Given NU

The University of Nebraska has been awarded 8 three-year fellowships under the National Defense Education Act for the coming year, the Graduate College announced.

The fellowships will amount to approximately $100,000 over the 3-year period, Dr. Harold Wise, associate dean of the Graduate College said.

Approved under the act are 3 fellowships in entomology and 5 in political science. Each fellowship carries a stipend of $2,000 for the first year; $2,200 for the 2nd year; and $2,400 for the 3rd year. In addition, each recipient receives $400 per year for each dependent.

The University will also receive about $2,300 per year per recipient for cost-of-education expenses.

In the department of political science, the fellowships will be used in comparative political behavior and in the politics and public policy area. For the first time next year, the entomology department will conduct a Ph.D program.

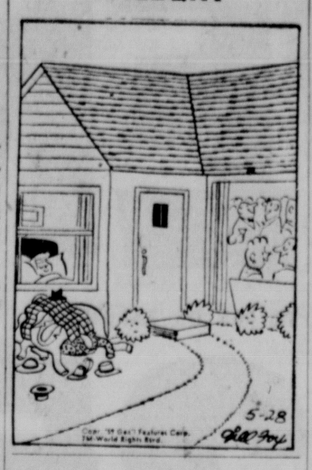

DRIVERS TESTS TO SHIFT SITE

Chief examiner William Edwards said Wednesday that drivers license examinations will move from the State Capitol to the Highway Department facilities at 14th and Burnham St. near the Penitentiary.

Edwards said the move will be effective Monday. Examinations will continue to be given Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Edwards said there will be better examination facilities at the new location and better parking facilities for applicants who now must find parking around the congested Capitol area.

2 Win Grants To Harvard U

Two Lincoln members of the 1959 Nebraska All-State Scholastic Team have been awarded freshman scholarships to Harvard University in Cambridge, Mass., according to the school's local admissions and scholarship committee, headed by Richard W. Smith.

The awards, each totaling about $1,000 for the first year, were made to Phillip S. Dow and John Winkelman Jr., two of the 12 students named to the scholastic team.

Dow, son of Dr. and Mrs. David Dow of 2710 Sewell, is a senior at Southeast High School. He already has been awarded a scholarship to Stanford University and plans to major in science.

Winkelman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Winkelman of 924 Moraine Drive, is a senior at Lincoln High School. He has received another scholarship to Yale University and plans to study medicine.

Gravel, Sand, Cement Firm Incorporates

Articles of incorporation have been filed by the Nebraska Sand, Gravel and Ready Mixed Concrete Assn., Lincoln, the secretary of state's office reported.

Incorporators of the nonprofit organization are Everett R. Jones of Beatrice, Gloyd W. Gordon of Lincoln, V. E. Olsen of Nebraska City, Paul Christensen of Fremont, and Harold C. Keeberg of Omaha.

Others filing included The Boston Store, Inc., Bayard; incorporators, Victor Bastron, Jacob Bastron and Adolph Bastron, all of Bayard; capital stock authorized $25,000.

Ike Asks Nike-Bomarc Decision

. . . SEC. McELROY REPORTEDLY INSTRUCTED TO ACT PROMPTLY

Washington (AP) — A Senate source said he has been informed President Eisenhower has told Secretary of Defense McElroy to move at once to settle the fight over the Army's Nike-Hercules and the Air Force's Bomarc anti-aircraft missiles.

Sec. McElroy

The source, declining to be quoted by name, said he has learned the President instructed McElroy to recommend whether the Continental Defense Command should retain both the Nike-Hercules and the Bomarc, or should discard one of them. McElroy was said to have been told to back up the recommendation with solid evidence.

"I am not at liberty to say by whom we were informed," the source said, "but the instructions were for the secretary to make this his first order of business and to act at once."

Back In Capital

McElroy has been in Geneva attending the Big 4 foreign ministers' meetings. He attended John Foster Dulles' funeral Wednesday but plans to return to Geneva Thursday.

The informant said the order was issued as a sequel to a meeting between Eisenhower and GOP congressional leaders Tuesday. Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass) was quoted as telling Eisenhower then that the Senate would "resolve the matter for you" if the President didn't act this week.

After that meeting, Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois quoted Eisenhower as saying there is no need for an immediate choice between the two missiles.

Stennis Visits President

Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss), a senior member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, called on Eisenhower to step in and settle the row which has found the Army and Air Force entering claims that each has the better weapon.

"I do not think that the Congress should longer be denied firm policy decisions at the highest level," Stennis said in a statement.

"Only firm decisions and policies at the highest level can prevent further duplications which serve only to divide our talents and our resources."

"Developments within the last 48 hours encourage me to believe that the Department of Defense is moving rapidly to reach decisions as to re-evaluations and recommendations for a more acceptable plan," Stennis added without describing these developments.

Issues Called Grave

But, he said, "these issues are so grave and far-reaching that the personal attention of the President himself is warranted . . . Only a top level national policy decision can resolve the issue."

Stennis heads an Armed Services subcommittee which has struck from a military construction authorization bill an item for about 50 new Nike bases in this country.

3 Education NU Seminars Set At NU

Three short-term workshop seminars in education for elementary school leaders and physical education specialists will be offered by the University of Nebraska Teachers College for the first time this summer.

The new program will be given from June 22 to July 10. Persons enrolled in each seminar can earn 3 hours of graduate credit, Dr. Frank E. Sorenson, summer session director said.

The seminar for elementary school principals will be directed by Prof. Caleb Bucher of the Milton J. Brecht School in Lancaster, Pa.

The seminar for secondary school principals and supervisors will be conducted by Dr. Leo P. Black, assistant commissioner of education for Colorado and former assistant commissioner for Nebraska.

Dr. Doris O'Donnell, associate professor of women's physical education at the University, will head the physical education workshop, open to men and women.

CARMICHAEL

House Approves

Washington (UPI) — The House approved a 4-year extension of the government's power to renegotiate defense contracts and recapture excess profits. The roll call vote was 378 to 7.

Before final passage, the House rejected, by a vote of 246 to 153, the Eisenhower administration's proposal to limit extension of the legislation to 27 months.

Ruling Given On Publishing Legal Notices

Needn't Be In County

Newspapers in which legal notices are published must have general circulation in the county concerned, but need not be published in that county, the attorney general said in an opinion handed down Wednesday.

The opinion was written by Atty. Gen. Clarence S. Beck and Assistant Atty. Gen Homer L. Kyle at the request of Dock Brock of Hastings, attorney of Adams County.

Brock's question concerned the publication of legal notice prior to the formation of the Kenesaw Rural Fire Protection District, which is located in both Adams and Kearney counties.

5 Days

He said publication was made in a legal newspaper in Adams County, and also in a Kearney County legal newspaper, but in the latter only 5 days before the joint meeting of the county boards instead of the required 7.

The attorney general upheld the legality of the formation of the fire district on grounds of the Adams County publication, assuming it was in a legal newspaper of general circulation in Kearney County at least 7 days before the meeting, even though it was not published inside Kearney County itself.

Power District Files Petition For Change Of Name

State Water Resources Director Dan S. Jones Jr. said Wednesday the Burt County Rural Public Power District has filed a petition to eliminate restrictive language in its petition of creaton and to change ts name.

The proposed change in name would eliminate reference to rural and language tending to limit service to rural customers would be eliminated under the proposed change.

The petition also calls for reducing the board of directors from 9 members to 7.

Jones said he has set a hearing for June 5 at the Capitol.

Automatic Check Off Measure Dies

The Legislature killed Wednesday a bill which would have allowed automatic check off for state and other governmental employes of savings bond purchases, union dues, credit union payments and charity gifts.

The measure, LB397, was axed 22-13.

The motion to kill was made by Sen. Hal Bridenbaugh of Dakota City. He declined to allow the sponsor, Sen. Richard Marvel of Hastings, to amend the bill.

Marvel wanted to amend the bill to apply only to state employes and to provide for reimbursement of cost through a charge for making the deductions.

Sens. Bridenbaugh and Jack Romans of Ord spoke against the measure, contending that it would put the state in the collection field. Bridenbaugh maintained it would cost the state money in the future.

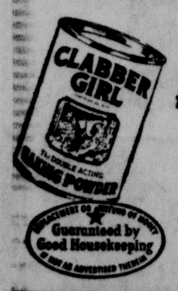

County Board Scores Unicam Salary Policy

The Lancaster County Board went on record as favoring the amendment of a salary bill now pending in the Legislature.

The Board wants Lancaster County excluded from the provision of LB679 which provides that deputy county office heads must be paid a salary equal to 75% of the salary which the office head himself receives.

Amended G&T Petition Hearing Set

A hearing has been set for 10 a.m. June 3 at the state Capitol on an application by the Generation and Transmission Cooperative, West Point, to be allowed to file an amended petition to its original petition seeking authorization to change to a public power district.

The G&T filed its original petition Sept. 26, 1958 to change from a cooperative to a public power district and amended it Oct. 21 and 27. Objections, however were raised at that time by interested parties.

Now G&T has asked to have leave to file an amended petition. The hearing will be on the question if the leave to file the amended petition should be granted.

Objections

State Water Resources Director Dan S. Jones Jr. said the amended petition is designed to take care of previous objections by other parties.

Consumers Public Power District, Loup River Public Power District and Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District attended hearings held on the original petition last October.

G&T, made up of several rural public power districts, also is the organization constructing a 230 kilovolt transmission line from Fort Randall, S.D., to central Nebraska near Columbus.

YMCA-YWCA Officers Named At Wesleyan

Kay Sandall, Bassett junior and Terry Cain, Omaha junior, have been named to presidencies of the Nebraska Wesleyan University YWCA—YMCA Chapters respectively.

Miss Sandall is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd R. Sandall of Bassett. Cain is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cain of Omaha.

Other YWCA officers for the year ahead are Janet Hall, Scottsbluff sophomore, vice president; Joan Sandall, Bassett freshman, secretary; Bev Olson, Ericson sophomore, treasurer; and Carol Sue Shreffler, Lincoln freshman, district representative.

WEATHER AHEAD

Nebraska temperatures for the next 5 days will average 4 to 8 degrees below the seasonal normal with a little warmer Thursday, cooler over the week end. Normal afternoon highs range from middle to upper 70s; normal lows near 50 to mid 50s. Precipitation is expected to average ¾ inch to 1½ inches, occurring as showers early in the period and again about Sunday or Monday.

Highway Unit Denied Full Power

Nebraska's Highway Advisory Commission survived an attempt Wednesday to abolish it completely, but efforts to give the commission full executive powers failed by a 16-24 vote.

At issue was LB338 which would have placed control of the State Highway Department in the hands of the 7-member commission rather than under direction of the governor. This would have included authority to name the state engineer who would have been a technical engineer only with no voice in policy matters.

The bill was introduced by Sens. Marvin Lautenschlager of Grand Island, Hal Bridenbaugh of Dakota City, Richard Marvel of Hastings, H. K. Diers of Gresham, Kenneth Bowen of Red Cloud and J. W. Burbach of Crofton.

Two Hours

Debate on the bill began late Tuesday afternoon and Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha moved immediately to kill the measure. Adjournment interrupted the discussion, but it was resumed Wednesday.

Principal argument of the bill's backers was that the Department of Roads was too big an agency to be under the control of one man, namely the state engineer, who exercises both policy making and administrative authority.

Sen. Lautenschlager contended that placing control of the department under a commission whose members would be chosen from districts over the state would be the type of representative government Americans want and respect.

Sen. Michael Russillo of Omaha, opposing the measure, argued that the commission form of executive authority would result in a "snarling dog fight along political lines."

Increase Cost

The Omaha senator also predicted that present costs of maintaining the advisory commission (about $20,000 a year) would increase to $60,000 to $100,000 a year, if it were an executive agency.

Sen. Lautenschlager then said the direction of the Highway Department either should be kept completely in the hands of the governor or in the commission.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff then offered an amendment to the bill which had the effect of striking the original measure and inserting a move to abolish the advisory commission completely.

In order to bring forth Carpenter's amendment, Klaver had to temporarily withdraw his motion to kill the bill, and this was granted on a 34-6 vote over the protests of Russillo and Sen. Arnold Buhnke of Plymouth.

Special Bill

Russillo argued that such an attempt should be made through a special bill with hearings and careful study, but most other members indicated they wanted to hear the amendment.

Carpenter called the advisory commission a "buffer zone which is bad government as far as I'm concerned."

The vote on the Carpenter amendment went down on a 14-24 vote.

Klaver then re-instated his motion to kill the bill and declared that if the bill were not indefinitely postponed "this will go down as the worst Legislature in the 16 years I have been here."

His motion to kill the bill then was sustained on a 24-16 vote.

The vote on Klaver's motion to kill the bill:

For 24: Adams, Liebers, Ruhnke, Aufenkamp, Moulton, Russillo, Carpenter, Munnelly, Stryker, Claussen, Olinger, Syas, Cooper, Orme, Thompson, Fenske, Otto, Vosoba, Jensen, Peck, Webb, Klaver, Portsche, Williams.

Against—16: Bowen, Hollenbeck, Pjzer, Bridenbaugh, Lautenschlager, Romans, Burbach, Marvel, Skarda, Diers, McHugh, Swanson, Donner, Nelson, Tews, Fulton.

Absent and not voting—3: Erlewine, Gerdes, Simmons.

Stocks Gain Moderately

New York (AP) — The stock market Wednesday weathered some late profit taking and retained a moderate advance. Trading was comparatively slow.

The market put a stop to its habit of the past two sessions when late selling erased early gains. A plurality of winners remained by the close and these were up from fractions to 2 points or so among pivotal issues.

The performance was more flashy than that among some stocks, notably the electronics which sprang back to life, several winding up as among the most active issues. Zenith's new stock soared 12¼ points while Motorola jumped 6¾.

The market tone was pretty drab, however, among leading oils, coppers, rails, airlines and aircrafts. Many of these showed losses running from fractions to about a point.

A higher trend among motors, rubbers, steels, tobaccos, farm implements and assorted issues helped boost the market average within easy striking distance of a historic high.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 80 cents to $229.70 with the industrials up $2.30, the rails off 60 cents and the utilities up 10 cents.

Of 1,221 issues traded, 514 advanced and 488 declined. There were 44 new highs for the year and 38 new lows.

Volume was 2,940,000 shares compared with 2,910,000 Tuesday.

Eleven of the 15 most active stocks rose, 2 fell and 2 were unchanged.

U.S. government bonds rose slightly in quiet dealings.

Bond sales totaled $4,840,000 par value.

CHICAGO

The butcher hog market lost most of Tuesday's good gains on a larger supply Wednesday of 1,000 head.

Trade was slow and prices weak to 25 cents lower with the top of $17.50 off 25 cents from Tuesday's peak. About 75 head of 190-210 lb No. 1 grade sold at $17.40-17.50. The 190-220 lb mixed 1-2 grades moved at $17.00-17.75, the same weights of 2 and 3s at $16.50-17.00.

Sows cleared at $11.50-14.00 and were steady to 25 cents lower.

Slaughter steers recovered most of their sharp Monday setbacks with the market strong to 75 cents higher in a moderately active trade.

A few mostly prime grade steers weighing 1,250 lbs brought $33.00. High choice and mixed choice and prime were $29.75-32.00 and high good to choice $27.00-29.50.

Heifers were strong to 50 cents higher, bulls steady to 25 higher and vealers weak to $1 lower. Heifers brought $30.25-30.50 for 1,025-1,100 lb mixed choice and prime. Utility and commercial bulls were $23.00-25.25 and vealers downward from $35.00.

The small supply of 500 sheep included no choice grade fed lambs but prices were steady on all classes represented. Good to choice spring lambs cleared at $26.00-26.50.

LATE RALLY AIDS GRAINS

Chicago (AP)—Wheat and rye futures suddenly overcame a persistent bearish feeling on the Board of Trade Wednesday and ran up their best advances of the week in a flurry of short covering.

Rye advanced more than a cent a bushel in the December and March contracts while the nearby months and all wheat deliveries gained major fractions of a cent.

The late rally also carried new crop soybeans well over to the plus side but corn and oats again were weak.

Corn prices eased in the cash market for the 3rd successive day. Highest bids Wednesday were off a cent from the peak offer of Tuesday.

Wheat futures close ⅜-⅞ cent a bushel higher, July $1.84⅝-¾; corn unchanged to ⅝ lower, July $1.25⅜-½; oats ⅛-⅜ lower, July 63¼; rye ⅝-1¼ higher, July $1.21¾-⅞; soybeans unchanged to ⅝ higher, July $2.27⅞-¾.

Red China Aide On Way To Albania

. . . To Join Khrushchev

London (AP) — Nikita S. Khrushchev's visit to Albania gained new significance Wednesday with the announcement that Red China's defense minister also is on his way to the little Adriatic satellite nation.

The Soviet premier, who arrived Monday at Tirana, the Albanian capital, for a 12-day stay, was accompanied by his own defense minister, Marshal Rodion Malinovsky, and was greeted at the airport by the East German premier, Otto Grotewohl.

Western sources were in the dark as to how many other important Communist leaders might be in Albania or planning to appear there.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed bids will be received by Lancaster County, Nebraska and the Department of Roads of the State of Nebraska at the office of the Department of Roads in the State Capitol at Lincoln, Nebraska, on June 11, 1959, until 10:00 o'clock A.M., and at that time publicly opened and read for GRADING, CONCRETE PAVEMENT, CULVERTS and incidental work on EAST "A" STREET NEAR LINCOLN Federal Aid Secondary Project No S-616(3) Federal Aid Road.

The proposed work consists of constructing 0.5 of a mile of Paved Road.

The approximate quantities are:

Soviets May Be Aiming At 'Space Bomb Storage'

Washington (AP)—Instead of pressing to get a man into space within a couple of years, Russia may be working to put nuclear warheads in orbiting space capsules ready to be loosed whenever they choose.

This was described as a technical possibility by Dr. Walter J. Dornberger, engineering director for Bell Aircraft Corp. He suggested that the United States also work on such a system as a deterrent to war.

Dornberger said that until there is international agreement for the peaceful use of space "it is my feeling that we should think twice before we make a decision to put a large part of our effort into just peaceful penetration of space."

In a speech to the National Missile Industry Conference, Dornberger mentioned what he termed the concept of "bomb storage in space," and then added:

"I just wanted to tell you about such a possible threat from space in the near future, not to scare you, but perhaps to help make the decision easier about what is more important: our national survival or a trip to Venus."

Saying it's expected that within two years the United States will have solved all problems preliminary to launching a man into space, the scientist said:

"If we Americans can do that, I am quite sure the Russians can do the same. Now think a little bit farther, and let's assume that this program will be a success.

Offensive

"The Russians, aiming at world domination, may not be so much interested in proving man's ability to think and act in a state of weightlessness as they are in getting a military offensive weapon system in space, which gives them temporarily a military and political advantage.

"Instead of putting a man into such a nose cone, they may put a nuclear warhead in it. By ballistic missiles or some other means, within the next years, they may get hundreds of these bombs or space-to-ground missiles, together with thousands of decoys, into permanent and calculated orbits, circling the globe from all directions and at different altitudes; each passing over the United States at least once every 24 hours. At the moment they choose . . .

They get the bombs in the right attitude, ignite the retro-rockets, and like from a spring board, all missiles, one after the other, are on their way to specific targets within the United States."

County Board Okays Civil Defense Bids

Apparent low bids for $2,678 worth of Civil Defense radio equipment were accepted by the County Board.

City-County CD Director Richard Vestecka told the Board the equipment, which included geiger counters and radio receivers and transmitters, will be used for "post-disaster" use. He said the low bids were $478 under estimated cost, which will be half paid from federal funds.

Pursue High Objectives, Pen Women Meet Told

"We cannot all do the same things with equal competence, but we can go forward and upward," Miss Pearl E. Brown, National Organization Secretary of the National League of American Pen Women, told members attending the Midwest Regional Conference here Wednesday.

She continued, "I am not going to tell you that you can do anything you wish. Ideals are like stars—we cannot touch them; but by following them with earnest, systematic effort, we are able to approach our goal."

She emphasized that any organization, in order to remain vital, must have enthusiasm.

League Chief Speaks

Miss Catherine Urban, national president from Washington, D.C. spoke on the aims and purposes of the League at the conference dinner Wednesday night.

She emphasized the importance of workshops, exhibits of art work, and original musical compositions by members. She said, "A professional group must be sustained."

The National League of American Pen Women is a group composed of more than 5,000 artists, composers and pen women throughout the United States, including Alaska and Hawaii, who have achieved professional status.

The Midwest Region consists of about 250 members throughout Nebraska, Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, Missouri and Kansas. Louise Magaw Ackerman of Lincoln is Regional Chairman.

Mrs. Nebraska Finals Are Scheduled Today

Omaha (AP)—The finals of the 1959 Mrs. Nebraska contest will be held in Omaha Thursday, the winner to compete in the national contest at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., June 11-23.

Finalists in the Nebraska contest are Mrs. James F. Richardson and Mrs. Donald F. Wright, both of Omaha; Mrs. Everett D. Raush, Grand Island; and Mrs. Jack M. Latham, Springfield, Neb.
